Algiers Throngs Cheer De Gaulle

. . . Asks Political Integration

Algiers (AP)—Premier de Gaulle proclaimed Wednesday that all Frenchmen, including the mixed population of Algeria, will decide their own future at the polls within 3 months.

Cheered wildly by a crowd of 100,000, he called for swift political integration of Algeria's French and North African peoples to keep the vast territory French. There are about one million people of French origin and 9 million native North Africans in Algeria.

"We are all French citizens starting today, with only one legislative assembly," he told the people of Algeria.

It was a day of emotional binges.

Bands played. Flags waved. Medals glittered. Troops paraded as thousands sang "la Marseillaise," the French National Anthem. Tears flowed freely. Hard facts of the long Algerian Nationalist rebellion were shunted to the background.

The general, impeccable in a plain, sand-colored uniform, spoke of the French day of decision from a balcony of the Government House.

That balcony was the focal point of the May 13 insurgent movement that started him to power.

Hailed by a bubbling carnival city, the stolid World War II hero apparently had 2 elections in mind:

1. A referendum on his constitutional reform program throughout France, meaning both the European homeland and Algeria, which is a part of France by law.

2. A vote for Algerian public officials in which the French colons (settlers) and the North Africans—Arabs, Berbers and others who outnumber the French 9-to-1—will cast ballots for the first time as equals.

Delay Asked

Paris (UPI)—France notified the United States that it wants a delay in the repayment of 54 million dollars in loans to give Gen. Charles de Gaulle the opportunity to put the country back on its feet financially as well as politically.

A Finance Ministry spokesman said France asked Washington for a postponement in its annual payments of "post liberation debts so as to strengthen the government's efforts for an economic recovery."

(In Washington, State Department press officer Lincoln White said that the department has not yet received any formal notice of the French request. U.S. officials said, however, that under existing treaties, postponement of the payments is automatic once notification is received.)

SCORCHER FOLLOWED BY RAINS

Heavy rains up to 3 inches east of Goehner in Seward County Wednesday night highlighted a stormy weather scene in Nebraska which saw Lincoln record its highest temperature of the year, a record 97 degrees.

Cooler weather is on tap for Thursday under clear to partly cloudy skies, the Weather Bureau said. Highs will range from the 70s in the north to 75-85 in the south, the Bureau said.

The high temperature of 99 at the Lincoln Air Force Base Wednesday was the highest temperature ever recorded in Lincoln on June 4. The city's high tied the previous record of 97 on June 4, 1911.

City Gets .20

Lincoln's precipitation count early Thursday morning topped .20 inch, with spasmodic showers continuing. A cloud formation reported as almost 8 miles high triggered storm activity in the area.

Large hailstones and some wind accompanied storms centered in Seward County.

About an inch of rain fell at Seward. Telephone lines were down to Beaver Crossing.

Early reports of possible flash flooding in the Milford area were traced by State Safety Patrolmen who reported no overflow in the area.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Clear to partly cloudy Thursday; cooler; highs 70s north to 75-85 south.

KANSAS: Partly cloudy Thursday with scattered thunderstorms south forenoon; widely scattered thundershowers south Thursday night; cooler Thursday, east Thursday night; highs in 80s.

Ike's View Asked

Want Authority To Aid Red Satellites?

Washington (AP) — Bipartisan demands arose in the Senate Wednesday for President Eisenhower to say whether he wants authority to use foreign aid money to help Russia's satellites pry loose Moscow's grip.

The proposal, written into a $3,712,000,000 foreign aid authorization pending in the Senate, is under attack by a group of Republicans led by Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the minority leader.

The proposal was sponsored by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), who said it had administration support. Noting reports that the administration position has changed, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) told the Senate:

"I want to know where the captain of the team is going to be when the ball game starts. I want to know that he will not be out in the bleachers watching the ball game while the rest of us are getting booted around."

Public Statement

Earlier, Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) asked the administration to make an immediate public statement of its position.

"Otherwise," Aiken told reporters, "some of us who have been working with them won't know what their position is."

Later, the Senate rejected a move to shift all future foreign arms aid money to the regular Defense Department budget.

The Senate defeated 56-16 an amendment by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) to divorce the purely economic aspects of foreign aid from military help to allies.

Proxmire said the people are "confused by the present unfortunate bookkeeping which tells them that the foreign aid budget is 3 times as large as it really is."

SENATE OK'S PAY HIKE FOR MILLION

. . . Raise To Federal Employes

Washington (UPI)—The Senate Wednesday approved with only minor changes a House-passed bill to grant a retroactive 10% pay raise to more than one million federal government employes.

The measure was sent back to the House for acceptance of Senate amendments. However, the Senate vote assured government white collar workers of pay raises totalling 542 million dollars a year.

The employes also would collect more than 200 million dollars in retroactive pay back to Jan. 1. The Senate originally voted a 7½% raise but decided to go along with the higher House figure.

Before passing the bill by voice vote, however, the Senate added an amendment which the administration had requested. It would permit the hiring of scientific and professional college graduates at a higher Civil Service grade than at present.

'Super-Grade'

It also would set up 900 "super-grade" and scientific positions within the Civil Service system.

The House can accept these provisions or demand that the measure be sent to a Senate-House Conference Committee in hopes of reaching a compromise on them.

The Civil Service pay bill would bring total pay hikes approved by Congress this year to $1,383,000,000. It previously okayed a 265 million dollar postal pay bill and a 576 million dollar pay hike for members of the armed forces.

Pool hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

It's Time To Give The Mighty Atlas Its 'Head'--Missile Boss

Omaha (AP)—The Air Force missile boss said Wednesday the time has come to let out the reins on the mighty Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

DATE FOR SITE

Gen. Schriever said that Omaha will get its intercontinental missile base in the not too distant future

"We have a target date but I would not want to give it at the moment," he added.

Then he said the Omaha area base will follow shortly the Cheyenne base now being started.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Shriever told newsmen:

1. There will be longer range tests of the Atlas from now on.

2. Before the end of the year the Air Force plans to shoot it over the full ICBM range—3,500 to 5,500 miles.

3. "The next series of tests will use the full weapon."—All 3 of its engines.

Tuesday's test at Cape Canaveral was the 8th for the Atlas. In each, the 100-ton missile has used only its 2 booster engines. The missile was designed to drop the boosters when their power is spent and let a so-called sustainer engine take over.

Using the boosters, Tuesday's test took the Atlas only about 600 miles compared with its designed range of more than 5,000 miles.

Its developers, Convair Astronautics, and the Air Force say that besides its intercontinental capability, the Atlas may be used for lunar shots or even trips to other planets.

Gen. Schriever, commander of the Air Research and Development Command's ballistic missile division, was in Omaha for a commencement address at Creighton University.

The general said that a planned missile facility near Omaha will follow shortly after one getting under way at Cheyenne, Wyo. He admitted the Air Force has a target date for its completion but declined to say what it is.

Man Dies In Auto Crash

North Platte, Neb. (AP) — A man identified as Bill Turnispeed of Omaha was killed Wednesday night when his car missed a curve on Highway 83 south of North Platte. Authorities said they understood he was a sales representative for the Kendall Refining Co.

Kidnap Attempt Feared

. . . Boy, 16, Guarded

Chicago (UPI) — Sheriff's police ordered a boydguard Wednesday for a wealthy widow's teen-age son for fear that a gang of gunmen may make a second attempt to kidnap him.

The gang shot its way into the suburban Northbrook mansion of Mrs. Margaret Stoll, 55, in an apparent attempt to abduct her son and strip her of her jewels.

The thugs fled without accomplishing either purpose, but police feared they would make another attempt to kidnap Mrs. Stoll's handsome, 16-year-old boy, Stephen.

The Stoll family butler, Bruce Sanders, 53, was shot twice in the legs when he tried to fight off a gang member dressed in woman's clothing. Sanders smashed his assailant's hand with a vase before he was shot and pistol-whipped.

"We don't want you, we want the boy," one of the 4 gang members shouted. Stephen and 2 friends heard the shots, slipped out of the house, and hid on the estate grounds.

Mrs. Stoll, meanwhile, stared down the gang members with a telephone held in her hand, as if she had just called the police.

The thugs grew nervous when they found they could not locate Stephen, Mrs. Stoll said, and fled in a stolen car. Stephen chased them for 2 miles in his own car before losing them.

–California Demo Hopes Soar–

Knowland In Grave Danger

...Brown Leads In Primaries By 3 To 2

By The Associated Press

Democratic governor 18,575 of 26,363 precincts, Brown 1,285,037, Knowland 215,267.

Republican governor 18,577 precincts, Brown 285,770, Knowland 837,453.

Democratic senator 16,945 precincts, Christopher 163,858, Knight 221,061, Engle 949,518.

Republican senator 17,282 precincts, Christopher 374,376, Knight 459,862, Engle 123,879.

By The Asociated Press

An upswing of popular votes toward the Democrats in the California primaries lifted party hopes that State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown would be elected governor over Republican U. S. Sen. William F. Knowland.

Republicans said there might be a different story by November's election. They recalled past California tests where Republicans have come out on top in general elections despite a heavy majority of Democratic registrants.

However, both Brown and Rep. Clair Engle, Democratic candidate for the Senate seat being vacated by Knowland, easily outpolled their principal Republican opponents in a primary allowing office seekers to file on both major party ballots.

Butler Encouraged

Democratic National chairman Paul M. Butler said he saw encouraging signs in the results for a November victory in the big West Coast state, but cautioned against complacency.

Butler described the results as a "repudiation of the reactionary policies of the Republican party. This was a reference to Knowland's bid for governor and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's switch to run for the Senate although his original preference was to run again for governor.

Meade Alcorn, chairman of the GOP National Committee, said in another statement he is confident California will remain Republican. He said elections are won in November. Knowland called the results "just the opening skirmish." He said he expected to be elected governor and hoped to be re-elected governor after four years. He promised a vigorous campaign. So did Brown.

With the counting still far from complete, Brown led Knowland by roughly 3-2 in total vote and took his own Democratic primary from the senator by 5-1. Knowland won his party nomination, but Brown got about one-fourth of the GOP vote.

The Democratic surge showed, too, in the combined vote for Rep. Engle of Red Bluff, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senate, over Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. Knight defeated Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco for the GOP nomination.

Other primary results:

Alabama—In a runoff Democratic primary, States Rights Democrats opposed to a party loyalty oath pledging candidates to support national party nominees regained control of party affairs.

State Atty. Gen. John Patterson, 36, piled up an unprecedented vote in winning the Democratic nomination for governor—equivalent to election in strongly Democratic Alabama—in a runoff with Circuit Judge George C Wallace.

Montana—Sen. Mike Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader, easily won renomination for a second term over 2 political newcomers. His Republican opponent in November will be either Mrs. Blanche S. Anderson, Helena widow, or Louis W. Welch, 31, Anaconda millman, who were in a tight contest.

South Dakota—Atty. Gen. Phil Saunders, 38, won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over Lt. Gov. Roy Houck and State Rep. Charles Lucey. Saunders' opponent in November will be Ralph Herseth, farmer-merchant, who won the Democratic nomination by default.

U.S. Combat Distinctions Said Ended

West Point, N. Y. (UPI)—Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy told the U. S. Military Academy graduating class that modern warfare requirements had obliterated the old-time distinction between ground, sea and air combat.

However, McElroy told the fledgling lieutenants that the identities of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps would be retained with the "separate traditions" of the individual services.

Future battles, he said, would be fought with "whatever combinations of forces and weapons are needed to win."

MRS. RUDD BROWN

MRS. BROWN IS WINNER

. . . In Coast Primary

Pasadena, Calif. (AP) — A granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan cleared her first hurdle in a bid to start a political career.

Mrs. Rudd Brown, 37, won the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 21st District and will oppose Republican incumbent Edgar W. Hiestand in November.

Mrs. Brown, attractive wife of California Institute of Technology Prof. Harrison Brown, defeated W. C. Stethem in the Democratic primary. She got 14,339 to 11,733 for Stethem and 6,509 for Hiestand who cross-filed.

Both her grandfather and her mother were in the thick of political life. Her mother was the late Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, who served in Congress and also as minister to Denmark.

First Try For Office

But this was Mrs. Brown's first try for political office.

Ruth Rohde was educated in the public schools of Lincoln, and attended the University of Nebraska from 1901-03, where she was a member of Delta Gamma.

Mrs. Brown, however, has lived all over the world and in nearly every section of the country except her grandfather's home state of Nebraska. Mrs. T. S. Allen of Lincoln is her great-aunt.

She had previous experience in campaigning as she was chairman of the Southern California Women for Adlai Stevenson in 1956 and a delegate to the party's national convention.

Drug Use For County Patients Is Cut 50%

City-County Health Department Director Dr. George Underwood said Wednesday that drug use for county patients has been cut about 50% since the new doctor panel plan went into effect the first of this year.

He said, contrary to a previous item, that no meeting is planned with drug suppliers to discuss the $1,004 drug bill of the county in May. He said Health Board members at the monthly meeting did not criticize the amount.

The doctor also said that it has been the usual practice for the Department to purchase shoes for county milk inspectors, as they require a special type to prevent deterioration from milk and chemicals they come in contact with. The Board had approved a $9.95 bill for one pair of such shoes at its meeting.

Peace Is America's Top Goal

. . . Ike Tells Graduates

Annapolis, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday called winning world peace the No. 1 job of this year's Naval Academy graduates and all other U. S. military officers.

"Peace is the imperative of our age," he said in an address at the academy's 118th commencement exercises.

He also told an audience of 11,000 in the big fieldhouse near the Severn River that peace — and prevention of scourging war—can be won in this nuclear era only from a position of military strength.

"The armed services have become, indeed, great shields to guard the peace," Eisenhower said.

He also put in an indirect plug for his defense reorganization program, now facing an uncertain fate in congress. He urged the 899 graduates to stay up to date on the principles of effective military management, and added:

"Obsolescence in military management and organization can be as dangerous to our nation as obsolescence in weaponry."

Construction Begins On Housing Project

Papillion, Neb. (UPI) — Construction of 200 homes is under way on a 71-acre tract near Highway 31, a mile north of Offut Air Force base.

A plat for the project, developed by Alfred and Joseph Cascio, both of Omaha, was approved by the Sarpy County Board of Comissioners.

Blast-Burned Malcolm Man Is Improved

A civilian employe of Lincoln Air Force Base, James R. Dinsmore, who was seriously burned Tuesday night after a gas water heater explosion, was reported in improved condition at a Lincoln hospital Wednesday.

But his 7-year-old daughter, Ann, also badly burned in the blast that rocked Dinsmore's home at Malcolm, was still listed in critical condition.

Dep. Sheriff Robert Anderson, who brought the victims to a Lincoln hospital after the accident, said Dinsmore and his daughter had gone to the basement to check the heater.

The heater exploded, burned the 2 over large portions of their bodies, shredded curtains and even ripped plaster from the walls.

Another child, Paula, 11, suffered minor burns but was not hospitalized.

Little one-year-old Greg Dinsmore was thrown from his bed by the blast, but was not injured.

DR. WINNETT WILL:

Estate May Provide $400,000 For Parks

The estate of the late Dr. H. J. Winnett, former Lincoln mayor, may provide trust funds upwards of $400,000 for the benefit of the city's parks.

At his death in 1918, Dr. Winnett provided the majority of his estates should go to the city parks after the death of Mrs. Winnett. His widow died earlier this week at 91.

In 1952, Hovland-Swanson Co. purchased its 1240 O building from the Winnett estate for $265,000, proceeds of which were to go to the city along with a $130,000 trust fund.

Excluded, however, were $7,000 in legacies, including $1,000 to St. Paul Methodist Church.

Dr. Winnett also stipulated income from $10,000 of the estate must be set aside by the city and used for care of indigent hospital patients.

The city must invest the residue and use only the income for parks, according to the will.

Under its terms the money must not be used for ordinary park upkeep but expended for erection of fountains, statuary and other permanent decorations.

City officials said the provisions of the will and estate matters are under study by the legal department before any action can be taken on the use of the Winnett bequest.

Water Use Increase Seen In Lincoln Over Last Year

Lincolnites will probably use more water to moisten lawns and for air conditioning this year than in 1957 from early indications.

May pumpage figures show an average of 21.3 million gallons per day as compared with 19.7 million a year ago.

Highest day so far this year was May 29 with 31.2 million gallons.

July and August are the heaviest months. In fact, the all-time high was July 18, 1957, when 51.3 million gallons were used.

However, this mark is still a far cry from the 72 million gallons a day capacity, including 60 million from the Ashland station and 12 million from the Lincoln plant. Additionally, the city has reservoir capacity for 30 million gallons.

Contrasted with some upsurge in May, the total from Sept. 1 to April 1 was 3.5 billion gallons as compared with 3.9 billion for the same 1956-57 period.

Coloradoan May Be Heir To Big Estate

Omaha (AP)—The Omaha World Herald said Wednesday it has located Donovan Earl McLaughlin Funk, 47, who may be an heir to a contested estate worth several hundred thousand dollars.

He operates a small machine shop in Alamosa, Colo., the newspaper said.

The search started when the Lincoln, Neb. police department, received a request from E. S. McLaughlin of Santa Clara, Calif., to help locate her brother, Donald Earl McLaughlin, in connection with the settling of the estate of Lorin G. McLaughlin, father of the Donald McLaughlin sought. The estate amounts to $450,000 and considerable interest in oil lands.

Mrs. Hulda Roper, Lincoln policewoman, said relatives of Donald McLaughlin told her he was born at Storm Lake, Iowa in 1912, and was placed in an Omaha children's home at an early age.

House Votes Army Extra $99 Million To Keep Strength At 900,000

Washington (AP)—Big Army advocates scored an impressive initial victory Wednesday as the House voted to approve $38,409,561,000 in new funds for the Defense Department.

They rammed into the annual military appropriation bill an amendment to give the Army an extra 99 million dollars to keep its fighting strength at 900,000 during the next 12 months. This is 30,000 more personnel than President Eisenhower and the House Appropriations Committee had recommended.

The extra money for the bigger Army was approved by a non-recorded vote of 108-79, subject to possible reversal on a rollcall count Thursday before the bill goes to the Senate.

The House refused, however, to approve $35 million requested by Eisenhower, and denied by the committee, to start work on a second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. An amendment to add the carrier funds was offered by Rep. Francis Dorn (R-NY) and was shouted down by voice vote.

Rep. Robert Sikes (D-Fla) sponsored the Army amendment and told the House it would be taking a calculated risk to cut the army to 870,000 fighting men as the administration proposed. Estimated Army strength now is 900,000, and Sikes' amendment would keep it at that figure during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The Sikes and Dorn amendments were the only ones offered. Otherwise, the House followed the Appropriations Committee's figures. The committee had boosted over-all presidential money requests by $113,614,000 exclusive of the 99-million increase for the Army.

The added funds provide for a speedup in missile and anti-submarine warfare programs and override Eisenhower's plans to reduce the size of the Army National Guard, the Army Reserve and the Marine Corps. They provide for Marine Corps strength of 200,000 a National Guard of 400,000 and reserve strength of 300,000. This is 25,0 more of 300,000. This is 25,000 more Marines, 40,000 more guardsmen and 30,000 more reservists than Eisenhower had proposed.

The over-all bill would give the Army $8,716,626,000, the Navy $10,714,247,000 and the air force $17,317,775,000. The balance of the total is for interservice activities and for the office of the secretary of defense and the recently created advanced research projects agency.

The Navy's money provides for construction of 9 missile-firing submarines instead of 5 proposed by the President.

Man Held In Legion Club Liquor Theft

. . . Former Manager

Police are holding the 31-year-old former manager of the Legionnaire Club at 1525 P on an open charge after he reportedly admitted the theft of liquor valued at more than $636 from the club's supply.

He took liquor on 3 occasions since January, police said. He reportedly stole 132 quarts and 12 fifths, some of which were sold to another veteran's club in McCook, police reported.

Charges are expected to be filed against the man Thursday by the county attorney's office. Federal authorities also reportedly are investigating the case, as it would be a federal offense to resell the club's liquor which is tax-free when purchased by the club.

The accused man was replaced Apr. 30 as club manager by Harry Ball, who had previously served as club manager prior to the other man's employment.

The Itch To Get Away

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It is about that time of year when the old itch to get away from it all starts pestering a person nearly to death. It is vacation time across the land and the working man is beginning to get a certain gleam in his eye.

He is getting a little confident around the office and growing cocky at home. He is getting a little forgetful and often finds himself in a trance—thousands of miles away from reality in the imagination of his mind. At times, he gets nervous and jumpy and seems almost eager to jump into an argument or debate over something that ordinarily would be of little interest to him or of little consequence. But all these symptoms are nothing to be alarmed about.

That Well Known Feeling

They mean that the individual is looking forward to his vacation. It is getting near the time when he will tell his year-long associates goodbye for at least a couple of weeks. He will leave behind the morning and evening traffic jams, the nightly setting of the alarm clock, the morning shave, the lunch box, the stiff collar and all other material parts of his daily labors.

No longer, he is saying to himself a month or so in advance, will I punch that crazy time clock. No longer will I have to stand at that counter and deal with people who don't know what they want or why they want it. No longer, at least, for a couple of weeks.

As the vacation deadline approaches, enthusiasm and tension heighten.Chances are that the final decision on where to go and what to do has not yet been made and all factions of the family are busy laying groundwork for their own private hopes.

This process takes on all sorts of devious ways. The breadwinner does his best to put across the idea that a vacation is a time for relaxation and enjoyment — a time of heavy concentration on the better things of life such as fishing, hunting, golfing, boating, etc.

★

But, there is another side of the family which is not quite so sports-minded. Odd as it may seem to the fellow who thinks it is his vacation, there are those factions in the family which think they, too, have some rights and are not averse to protecting them.

A visit to distant relatives may be the most appealing thing to this faction or long stops in big cities where the latest fashions can be leisurely pursued. Chances are the whole thing ends up in a compromise in which everyone is substantially satisfied.

There are, of course, those who have traveled and decided from their experience that a vacation at home is just as rewarding, or more so, than one in unfamiliar surroundings. These are the people who recall the habitual $3 or $4 meals, the $20 or $25-a-night lodgings, the bewildered and disgruntled children who find themselves without favorite toys and playmates, the tired feeling at the end of an eight or 10-hour drive and other such discomforts or annoyances.

Allure Of One's Own Backyard

But, the travel agencies report a booming business, despite the recession and despite whatever the weary traveler may have learned from his or her last experience. Russia, Japan and other foreign lands are looking this year for record tourist trade from the U.S.

A funny thing — we go to any extreme and make any sacrifice to get away from our daily routine. Then, two, three or four weeks later, we are champing at the bit to get back to what we left.

Rejected Party More Than Man

The poor showing of Senator William Knowland against his Democratic rival, Edmund G. Brown, in the California gubernatorial primaries was not the surprise that earlier Republican reverses were — for instance, the victory of Democratic Senator Proxmire when Wisconsin selected its man to succeed the late Joseph McCarthy.

Knowland struggled to get but 40 per cent of the California vote while Brown wrapped up the Democratic vote and then went on to pick up a third of the Republican vote too.

It will be explained that Senator Knowland's bad showing was the price he paid for sticking to his Senate duties in Washington while his rival worked the California field in detail. It will be different, they will say, in November after a summer of campaigning.

That remains to be seen. Senator Knowland is well known in California, well connected, too. Moreover, he is one of the nation's leading Republicans. California had his measure. Its doubts were not so much over Knowland, for it has frequently elected him in the past. The doubts are more in regard to the capacity of Republican thinking in terms of present day problems.

Mr. Knowland is not the only Republican who has taken a plastering. Governor Goodwin Knight, who was shouldered out of a second term by his own party and named the heir apparent for the Senate seat Knowland will vacate, ran an even poorer second to Rep. Claire Engle, the Democratic bidder.

California, like several other former Republican states, may well be gone, and for quite a long time. America has not been impressed by the wistful inaction of six years of Republican rule and that party's slips are beginning to show.

Sales Tax Drive Lagging

The drive by the Nebraska Tax Equity Council for a state sales tax referendum is admittedly lagging.

Council officials say they have less than 20,000 valid signatures on their petitions.

It will require 56,794 signatures by July 3 if there is to be a referendum. Less than a month's time remains.

Why such a poor response?

The association asserts that the petition carriers have done an indifferent job. A great many names were lost because they were improperly signed. The potential signers are apathetic.

Some of the drive's difficulties stem from an untimely and disunited start. When the sponsors disagree it is not to be expected that the citizens will show more unity and zeal.

But perhaps the fundamental fault was the unilateral character of the tax demand. It shook down to just one thing—more money. The public interest was not quickened by the promise and prospect that this additional money would do any more than strengthen and perpetuate the established flaws in the beneficiary agencies.

Nebraska is not hostile to its educational institutions. Indeed, it is otherwise. But the state is also aware that its education is not faultless. And it is also aware that no real tax relief will ever emanate from devices that change the form of the tax, but go right back to the same people for collection. Although federal aid is a dreadful word, it is a far better equalizing force than a state sales tax. But in the absence of it, education must show a gainful program with appealing and economical factors if it is to awaken the enthusiasm of the citizens. With so much educational change in the air, it is surprising that the school men did not come forward with a challenging appeal.

Moment For Satisfaction

Lincoln can accept the news with a good deal of satisfaction that its public school system has been given an AA rating by the State Board of Education.

This distinction, which was also granted to Hastings, elevates Lincoln to the select group of educational communities which previously included only Beatrice, Gering, Grand Island and Westside Community schools.

It means that in building facilities and services an AA schools operates at a considerably higher level than the average fully accredited school.

Such a provocative environment eases the way to high scholarship and represents the fulfillment of a community's maximum responsibility. It remains somewhat unfortunate that the scholastic product cannot be or has not been made subject to such a specific yardstick. There is always the matter of effective instruction and student initiative. But it is not unreasonable to presume that communities that are willing and able to take the lead in high forms of educational service will receive proportionate reward in an enlightened product.

Moreover, the increase in number of AA schools is prima facie evidence that Nebraska is on the march and is meeting the challenge of national necessity.

Bet On Ike

It is a notable event nowadays when an international event does not (1) cost us a billion or so, (2) produce recriminations and (3) call for a flood of speeches advocating agonizing reappraisal and another billion or so of appropriations.

But we've got one.

Very shortly now Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is coming to this country and he is going to engage our man, President Eisenhower, in a golf match on our course at Burning Tree, Maryland.

Neither country will be required to treat it as a crisis, although we understand the British are loaded for us. Mr. Macmillan is not the best golfer in the British Isles but he is the best who holds the prime ministership. And he is a Scotsman and therefore a congenital golf player and is said to shoot in the low eighties. Mr. Eisenhower only occasionally gets down that far, but he has an electric golf cart and will probably get the upper hand. Being Scotch Mr. Macmillan will only bring over one ball while our man has buckets full of them free from the companies that make them. That should really shake Mr. Macmillan.

Pilots Tell Of Lax Air Control

WASHINGTON—From pilots who have narrowly escaped collision, the Civil Aeronautics Board has put together a harrowing story of traffic congestion in our skies. The airways are getting so full of planes over some cities that they may soon be almost comparable to a Times Square traffic jam.

The CAB is studying these close calls for ideas on how to improve air safety. To avoid alarming the traveling public, the pilots' reports have not been released to the press, but here are the highlights. They show that drastic action must be taken to curb military flights in commercial airlanes and improve ground regulation.

The CAB study dated May 19 shows that ground control is no guarantee of safety. A military pilot who pulled his lumbering cargo plane up sharply in order to avoid colliding with an airliner reported: "I questioned the controller as to the lack of information usually given when other aircraft are in the vicinity of aircraft being monitored. The answer was, 'You didn't request that type information.'"

A similar experience was reported by the pilot of an aero commander who almost crashed into an Air Force B-29 while approaching New York's Idlewild International Airport.

"Idlewild advised they had no other aircraft under their control," complained the pilot. "I asked if they had other aircraft in their scope. Their reply was that they 'don't have altitudes.'"

In other words, Idlewild had no height-finder and could not report the altitude of planes on the radarscope.

A Navy pilot, whose fighter whistled a few feet over a private plane, though both were under radar control, was surprised when the private pilot frantically contacted him.

"I ain't seen you 'til yet!" responded the Navy man.

A Constellation, also under radar control, narrowly missed a small P-24. Afterward, the disgruntled Constellation pilot complained: "Radar's performance was very disappointing as we had been in contact with them (ground control) for four minutes. Yet they gave us no advisory of traffic."

After a DC-6 airliner almost collided with an Air Force jet bomber 900 feet over El Paso, Tex., the DC-6 pilot suggested that the Air Force should practice its instrument-landing approaches at near-by Columbus or Carlsbad where the air traffic is less congested.

"There are too many 'near misses' around here," he reported, "especially at night."

Another airline pilot, complaining against lackadaisical ground control, reported: "Tower advised us Cessna (private plane) in area, but gave us no location. I was watching instruments, first officer looking for Cessna, but first saw it as we began to pass underneath it. It was descending 'piggy back.' Had we continued we would have collided. We turned to right and advised tower. He didn't say much."

Russia Strives For Bigness At Brussels

BRUSSELS—Businessmen handling major United States industrial exhibits at the Brussels world's fair report that their visiting compatriots are often almost neurotic over the contrast between America's emphasis on cultural aspects and the heavy displays of capital goods by the Russians. With some amazement, they find smartly dressed American women among the worst complainers.

Possibly these are security-conscious Daughters of the American Revolution looking for what they fear. Anyway, the spokesmen for United States industry say they are all wrong.

It is readily conceded that the Russians have slightly more floor space and that their achievements are impressive. The Russians, it is also perceived, are on their way toward automation faster than expected, though the United States is still much better in that field.

But American exhibitors contend that the American show is excellent, very representative and very popular. They say, furthermore, that when the many good exhibits by American heavy industry are added to the government's contribution, the sum far outweighs what the Russians have done. What misleads all but the most indefatigable tourist of the huge fair is that the government's show is concentrated in one spot while the other American contributions are scattered about the grounds.

Also, the American government politely acceded to the host country's request that governments concentrate on their cultural and social achievements in their exhibits. Russians, possibly out of pure habit, broke the rule. They broke it again when they stamped their initials boldly on all their displays outside their own pavilion. This, too, was banned by the Belgians, but they felt powerless to protest what the Communist colossus chose to do.

For the special information of Representative Pat Rooney of New York and his colleagues of the congressional appropriations committees, the same businessmen said that while it was obvious not too much money had been spent on the United States government display, the men who arranged it did fine per dollar invested.

Their own reaction to the government's exploration of American social and cultural life was amusing. One of them—Yale '42 — is enraptured with circarama, a Walt Disney construction which takes the visitor on a rapid transit tour of America via film in a circular building rather like a planetarium.

"I hadn't realized that Americans wore costumes," he said. "But we do. The film shows milkmen, service station operators, motorcycle messengers, beauticians, models, all distinctively attired—and very effectively. It doesn't just fascinate me. You should watch foreigners gape at that show."

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Kerry Blue Is No Poodle

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

What does a dog have to do to get proper recognition!

That is the lament of Pixie, the pet of the Mike Lawlor family at 3330 So. 27th. People are forever mistaking her for a poodle even though she is a remarkably good representative of the less well known Kerry blue terriers.

Though Kerry blue terriers and poodles were both bred to hunt and Kerry blues are about the same size, 18½ inches and 33 pounds, as some poodles, that is where the similarity ends. Kerry blue terriers must be some shade of blue, not black, to be shown as a competitor for show honors.

Poodles were developed on the continent in Germany and France. Kerry blues are descendants of Irish ancestors. Though both poodles and Kerry blues have thick, long hair, the latter has a double layer of wool-like hair.

This extra heavy coat makes Kerry blue terriers ideal dogs for owners who never want their canines indoors. But if they do come in, they go out again with every hair brought in, barring losses due to violence. And furthermore, Kerry blues are attractive for their odorlessness, Lawlor points out.

Pixie is the sensitive type. When scolded, her feelings are easily hurt and she may mope for hours.

As is characteristic of her breed, Pixie likes to protect the children, especially the youngest, 14-month-old Johnny. When the baby plays in the backyard, Pixie is always close by his side sharing his food as well as his adventures.

And her tolerance of childish devilment is nothing short of phenomenal. Only once has she shown so much as a sign of resentment toward the Lawlor's eldest, Steve, 3. That was when he cracked her over the head with a hammer while she was sleeping. And then she let the matter go with a harmless snap in Steve's direction.

She also shows some promise as a watch dog. She has an almost uncanny ability to detect friends, on whom she bestows unbounded affection, and strangers, whom she greets with discontented growls.

☆ ☆ ☆

Her domain is the fenced backyard. However, having spent most of her two years in one fenced yard or another, Pixie is often consumed with wanderlust.

Given the opportunity she will embark on extensive explorations of the world outside her fences. Not like many dogs dealt with in these columns, she is not content to do her sightseeing from the plush seats of an automobile. Pixie likes to hoof it.

The only auto trip of any consequence she has ever taken was the drive from her native Waco, Texas, to Lincoln. Her subsequent trips have been without escort.

The Lawlors by no means condone Pixie's conduct in this respect and they continually take steps to upset Pixie's plans, but after all, they reason, Pixie is such a conscientious baby sitter when she is on the job that she should not be dealt with too harshly if she wants a little time to herself occasionally.

There ought to be some compensation for continually being called a poodle when you are really the only Kerry blue terrier in Lincoln and a model one, at that!

STEVE LAWLOR AND PIXIE
. . . the wide world beyond the fence . . .

Wheel Tax Ordinance

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Every supporter of the wheel tax welcomes the fullest publicity, provided it is honest, factual and true, but likewise opposes falsifications.

It was first falsely stated that the wheel tax ordinance prescribes no penalties for its violation by a city official, whereas Sec. 22 not only provides for a fine but also a jail sentence until both fine and costs of prosecution are paid (that stated above).

Later it was stated that such penalty applies only to car owners who fail to pay the wheel tax and that this is the misdemeanor clause for enforcing payment of the tax by a jail sentence. This is not true. Section 19 provides that failure to pay the tax when due will result in an interest charge of 1 per cent a month and a penalty of 5 per cent after six months, but not for a jail sentence under any circumstances. Only a city official fined for violating the ordinance is subject to jail sentence until fine and costs are paid.

The Ostrich

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In times of prosperity, people pay little heed to danger warnings of a national character. We are like the proverbial ostrich. However, I believe we are beginning to wake up to the fact that this country could be taken from within.

Among some of those who saw the danger were G. K. Chesterton and Bishop Noll. In 1923 Chesterton prophesied: "A great struggle is approaching. I may not live to see it. Hell's next attack will be on that doctrine on which all religion and all morality are based, the existence of a personal, infinite and eternal God. That attack will be accompanied by a mighty effort to sweep away the standards of Christian purity."

On February 18, 1945, in his weekly editorial column, Bishop Noll warned: "A large number of our readers have criticized us for the many articles which we have published in defense of the rights of Poland. They seem to think it unpatriotic to offer any criticism which might embarrass our Russian allies. But Poland's future is the key to the world situation. If Poland is saved and right and justice prevail, all is saved, but if Poland is sacrificed, the war loses its meaning." In a later editorial: "It is estimated that there are 80 million Communists among the 450 million persons in China. Because of this Chiang Kai-shek is criticized for not making good use of their services in our common war against Japan. But Chiang knows that they are not Chinese but rather Russian patriots and that they are not even in favor of a truly democratic independent China after the war. If the Communists should ever dominate China, the combination of Communist China's 450 million people and Communist Russia's 190 million people might by sheer numbers and economic resources dominate the world."

Many such editorials were written, but we as a nation put our faith in Mr. Roosevelt and his brain trust who continued to be outsmarted by the unscrupulous statesmen of Europe. He who won't listen must pay.

Live And Let Live

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Weeks go by and still the investigative authorities in Lincoln tell us nothing of finding in the Brown arson case. Whatever condition does exist as to facts discovered, we the public should know of them. Silence in a matter such as this does not serve justice. We of Nebraska take pride in the freedoms borne to us when we became a state. And Lincoln is the capital and should at least set the example of quality jurisprudence, and even try to keep our state on a civil parity with Massachusetts and many other states.

Nebraska houses many minorities who in their settler days suffered affronts or worse. Their kin had to "take it" when they tried to household and homestead. They have it easier now, but that is no reason they should not rally to prevent harm to those of a slightly different colored skin when they try to live here. We should live and let live, and build a high-level mutuality for all, with the law doing what it is being paid to do — investigate, apprehend, prosecute and imprison all malefactors.

WALTER GABRIEL

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In behalf of our trustees, parents council and teen-age council, I wish to express gratitude for the coverage given the plans for activities scheduled to help support our projects promoting interest in our corporation. Our organization has the vital purpose of promoting moral, intellectual, social and physical welfare of youth through programs and effective home authority that can do so much to curb our tragic delinquency problem.

We wish to thank all those, both adults and youngsters, who worked so long and diligently at the Memorial Day barbecue. Such volunteer effort is helpful in the effort to meet the problems of youth today and in helping young people work out effective solutions to all their problems.

Byrd Stands Pat Against Tax Cut

Washington (UPI) — Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee said he would resist any tax cut move despite a new wave of bipartisan demands for repeal or reduction of some excise levies.

The Virginia Democrat, whose committee handles tax legislation, said he is "going to stand" on the administration bill to extend present corporation and excise tax rates another year.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) asked about the outlook for selective excise tax cuts, replied that "I don't imagine anything will happen for the time being" on any tax revision.

The tax-extension measure already has been approved by the House Ways and Means Committee in line with an agreement between the White House and congressional Democratic leaders to oppose any anti-recession tax cuts at this time.

The full House is scheduled to tackle the bill as soon as it disposes of the pending defense money bill. Unless Congress acts, wartime tax rates on business, new automobiles, cigarettes, liquor and beer are scheduled to drop automatically July 1.

The extension measure was expected to clear the House without serious trouble, but some senators are ready to make a determined effort to slash some excise levies when the measure reaches that chamber. Auto and transportation taxes will be their chief targets.

Byrd obviously feared, however, that any breach in the administration - congressional agreement against tax cuts might open the door to wholesale reductions, aggravating an already serious deficit situation shaping up for next year.

One highly-placed Republican legislator, who agrees with the current stand against tax cuts, told United Press International the compact did not rule out a "new look" at the fiscal picture later this session.

But he said it would require "something serious" to cause either Democratic or Republican leaders to swing around in favor of tax reduction.

CALIFORNIA PAIR PLEAD NOT GUILTY

An Oakland, Calif., couple both entered innocent pleas to forgery charges in Lancaster District Court.

Tom Berry, 28, and his wife, Juanita, 26, were both charged with issuing forged checks in Lincoln Feb. 25. Police had said when they were arrested May 22 that the couple admitted writing about $1,200 in bad checks in Lincoln during the past several months.

They also reportedly admitted passing bad checks in Colorado, Arizona and California, police reported.

Judge Harry A. Spencer ordered the couple held for trial at the fall jury term, and set their appearance bonds at $5,000 each.

MUELLER PLANETARIUM, OTHER ATTRACTIONS, BECKON CAPITAL CITY SHOPPERS

Lincoln boasts some new and interesting attractions that Capital City shoppers might do well to visit in their spare time.

For instance, you may visit the planets and outer space at Lincoln's newest attraction —the Ralph Mueller Planetarium in Morrill Hall at the University of Nebraska. Tour may be made by special reservation or at regularly scheduled daily shows.

International Geophysical Year exhibits as well as astronomical and space age displays include satellites and rockets.

Morrill Hall also offers collections of Nebraska wildlife displays, fossils minerals and Indian exhibits in the Nebraska State Museum located there.

Elephant Hall and replicas of dinosaurs are especially noteworthy.

For the art lover, Morrill Hall has art galleries containing contemporary and traditional art in the form of paintings and sculptures.

While Morrill Hall specializes in animal life, the State Historical Society tells the story of people. Exhibits there depict the story of Nebraska and the Western Plains from prehistoric Indian times, through the pioneer area and up to modern times.

Another feature of the Sate Historical Society is the period rooms which contain, among others, a Victorian room, a room in a sodhouse and a "Gay Nineties" room.

Pioneers Park has something to offer to everybody —from swans to buffaloes and picnic grounds.

Towering more than 400 feet into the air, well over a city block, Nebraska's State Capitol is considered the most impressive in all the 48 states.

The 32-foot bronze figure of a sower, which tops the building, is symbolic of Nebraska's agriculture.

One of the beauty spots in the building is the rotunda, which is called one of the world's 10 architectural wonders.

2 Major Reservoirs Planned In Valley Co.

. . . Projects Would Benefit Power, Irrigation

Columbus, Neb. (AP)—The Loup River Public Power District announced Wednesday it has requested water storage rights for 2 major reservoirs in Valley County in the North Loup River valley.

The requests were filed with Dan Jones Jr., state water resources department director.

Loup said the reservoirs are planned for statewide power benefits and for supplemental irrigation water benefits to be carried out by organizations in the Loup basin.

Water to fill the 2 reservoirs would be taken from the North Loup River during the non-irrigation season. It would be released during summer months when power and irrigation needs in the valley are at their peak.

Largest of the 2 lakes to be created will be named Adolph Meyer Lake, located approximately one and one half miles west of the city of North Loup and 6 miles southeast of Ord.

Nebraska News

When filled, it will cover 19 square miles, contain more than 350,000 acre feet of water and range in depth up to 100 feet, Loup said. It will have 94 miles of shoreline.

Dane Lake

A short distance upstream and connected by canal will be Dane Lake, located about a mile south and slightly west of Ord.

It will cover approximately 7 square miles, will contain 40,000 acre feet of water, have 38 miles of shoreline and will be connected by canal to a diversion point on the North Loup River approximately 30 miles northwest of Ord.

Preliminary engineering indicates costs for the 2 reservoirs, the canal system and control equipment and construction will be approximately $5,750,000, Loup said.

Adolph Meyer, hydrologist from Minneapolis, Minn., discovered the storage sites and developed the engineering plans before the filings were made, Loup said.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

This is a steaming day of 99-degree Manila heat. A wet heat that never quite dries out. Our matches fizzle. The typewriter paper has lost its crispness and slides limply into the roller.

"The place where the nila grass grows," it means in Tagalog — Manila.

The tank road blocks of four years ago are gone. And they have taken down the dance hall appeals: "Gentlemen will please check their guns at the door."

Today we are warned that carrying firearms inside is a legal offense.

Mayor Arsenio Lacson has asked the city fathers to outlaw sale of the wicked balisong knife. Manila has calmed down.

☆ ☆ ☆

Far south in the Moro country of Mindanao, the thin outrigger vintas run guns and cigarettes from Borneo. They run the swift craft up the northern coast and sweep the shore villages for Christian slaves.

The vintas with their great colored sails have powerful auxiliary engines these days. They can outrun any ship in the coast patrol.

"Sometimes they run in Chinese," said a Manila newspaperman. "If our patrols get too close, they hook them by leg irons to the anchor chain. Let go the anchor and there goes the evidence. Over the side like a string of sardines."

☆ ☆ ☆

On the eastern side of Luzon, not too far from the neons of Manila: The first violent red blooms are on the flame trees. The Ilongot tribesmen are out for Christian heads.

When Ilongot boy gets Ilongot girl, he first gets a head.

The offering of a head is like an engagement ring. It proves love and serious intentions.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dinner last night in the cool penthouse apartment of Ted Lewin, the gay gamboleer from Nevada.

The town expects to commemorate the "Death March" from Bataan and asked Mr. Lewin to participate.

"What for?" said Mr. Lewin. "I did the original. I wouldn't do it again even with cars."

When Bataan fell, Lewin buried $17,000 in a sealed lard can on Bataan.

"I figured a place that would be easy to find again. Opposite a kilometer marking and right off the Signal Corps trail. Near the camp we called little Baguio."

When we got out of prison camp, Ted came back. The Japanese had changed the kilometer markings once. The Americans changed them again.

"I couldn't even find where Little Baguio had been. There's jungle so thick you can't even see the sky."

He thinks the bugs have eaten through the adhesive tape and polished off the $17,000 anyway. "That was before we learned how to seal things. The way to seal things in prison camp is like this: You take a length of pipe and heat it red-hot. Then you screw on the ends while it is hot and it creates a vacuum."

One set of prison camp records was secretely sealed. "The Japs were building a monument. We just dropped it into the wet cement and that's where we recovered it after the war."

☆ ☆ ☆

The American flag flies over the road lined with flame trees outside Manila. Over 17,810 crosses quarried from Philippines white marble. Most of the dates are 1942 or 1945.

The grass is cut short and the crosses lie in even semi-circles. Name, rank, home and the day they fell. And among them, every three or four stones, the unidentified:

Georgia Governor Accused Of Ruining Little Rock School Integration Plans

Little Rock, Ark. (UPI) — School Superintendent Virgil Blossom accused the Governor of Georgia and a Georgia editor of coming to Little Rock and ruining plans to gradually integrate Central High School.

Central High School became the hottest integration battleground in the nation last September. After a riot, President Eisenhower sent in 1,000 troops of the 101st Airborne Division to protect 9 Negroes who finally integrated the school.

The School Board has asked U.S. District Judge Harry Lemley to de-integrate Central High until mid-term, 1961. It contends that forced integration caused such bedlam that neither whites nor Negroes can be taught properly.

Blossom, testifying before Judge Lemley, said Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia and Roy Harris, editor of the weekly Augusta, Ga., Courier, came to Little Rock last summer to speak before segregationist rallies.

A Chance

"I felt that up to that time we had a chance (of getting people to accept the gradual integration plan)," he said. "I felt very apprehensive after the appearance of Governor Griffin and Harris."

He said that opposition to integration solidified particularly after Griffin's visit.

"Plans for gradual integration seemed to have been driven out of their minds," he said. "People told me Governor Griffin had advised them it was not necessary to integrate and they could not understand why the board was going ahead with its plan to desegregate the school."

Little As Possible

He said the object of the gradual integration plan anyway was to "accomplish as little desegregation as possible over as long a time as possible."

Witnesses have told of searching 2,600 lockers 43 times last year for reported bombs, of finding fires burning in locked lockers, of terrorism in schoolrooms and of students befouling hot air registers so the stench sickened whole classrooms.

School Board president Wayne Upton suggested that the trouble at Central will continue as long as Orval Faubus is governor of Arkansas. He did so while Wiley Branton, an NAACP lawyer, was questioning him.

Rough Sledding

Beaufort, S.C. (AP) — Things are rough even for generals.

Brig. Gen. E. C. Dyer climbed out of a plane bringing him here for dedication of the Marine Corps auxiliary air station, turned to an aide and said:

"Lend me a quarter for a pack of cigarettes."

Big Public Works Bill Gets Committee Approval

It Faces A Stiff Fight In House

Washington (UPI) — The House Banking Committee Wednesday approved a whopping 2 billion dollar anti-recession public works program. But it faced stiff opposition in the House and a veto if it ever reaches President Eisenhower.

The committee took the action in amending a Senate-passed bill which called for one billion dollars in federal loans for local public works. Administration officials had hinted that even the more modest Senate version might be vetoed.

16 To 6 Vote

The 16-to-6 committee vote failed to provide an accurate gauge of the controversy surrounding the Democratic-backed bill. It will have difficulty clearing the House Rules Committee and even stiffer opposition on the House floor.

The measure would call for the Treasury to pump 2 billion dollars into the economy in the form of loans bearing 2⅝% interest. The loans would go to cities and counties to finance public works.

The interest rate compares with about 3½% in the Senate bill and is far less than borrowers are charged in the open money market.

Democrats launched their campaign for the huge program—the biggest of all Democratic anti-recession measures—with the avowed purpose of making it easier for local communities to provide work for the unemployed with construction projects.

The administration claims the legislation would have little immediate effect because it would take too long to get the projects started.

The House committee junked a Senate provision to permit use of the federal loans to build schools. The House repeatedly has refused to provide federal funds for school construction and Democratic leaders figured the new proviso would have no chance.

The committee also struck out of the Senate bill a provision which would permit direct loans to states as well as their political subdivisions.

U.S. To Launch Sputnik III Equal In 12-18 Months

Washington (AP)—A top government scientist said Wednesday the United States will launch a satellite the size of Russia's Sputnik III within 12 to 18 months.

Dr. Herbert F. York told a national missile industry conference that this country lags behind Russia in the development of large rockets because the Russians started working in that field 5 years before the Americans did. York is chief scientist of the Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA) in the Defense Department.

AXTELL CHURCH INCORPORATED

The Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church of Axtell has filed non-profit articles of incorporation with the secretary of state.

Incorporators included Kenneth Osborn, Ervin Landstrom, Leo D. Ingram, Gaylord Anderson, Harold Fahrenbruch, and Dudley D. Wells, all of Axtell.

Other organizations, their authorized capitalization, and incorporators, included:

Ned's Hi-Way Package Drive-In, Inc., Minden; $6,000; Ned G. and Ona M. Burchell, both of Minden.

R. E. Reutzel Equipment Co., Fremont; $100,000; Robert E. and Virginia M. Reutzel, both of Fremont.

And A 'Hisser'

London (UPI) — Dr. Ernst Toch, 1956 Pulitzer Prize winner for music, will present his Symphony Number 3 here Thursday night, using musical glass balls, a glass harmonica, a vibrophone and a "hisser."

Toch, of Santa Monica, Calif., explained the "hisser" as a device that "lets off a terrifying noise like escaping steam from a train in a station."

Kremlin Proposes Credits

...On Trade Plans

Washington (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has proposed that President Eisenhower consider granting large, long-term credits to Russia as one way of financing a rapid expansion in Soviet-American trade.

This information came from officials who discussed the proposal with newsmen but specified that they not be identified.

In a letter delivered here, Khrushchev told Eisenhower Russia wants to buy substantial amounts of machinery and consumer goods and to sell a variety of raw materials, chemical products and machinery.

He was reported to have said the volume of trade could amount to several billions of dollars in the next few years.

Willing

Administration officials familiar with the Krushchev proposal said the United States is willing to trade with the Soviet government in non-strategic goods but they expressed great skepticism about the possibility of any such volume as Khrushchev suggested.

Khrushchev's letter is being carefully studied by administration trade experts and will be answered in due course. Authorities think western trade policy toward Russia will be discussed in top level U.S.-German and U.S.-British conferences here in the next few days.

The text of Khrushchev's letter has not been made public, but he is reported to have included a long list of materials which Russia would like to buy or sell in expanding trade with the United States.

The letter gave no figures on quantities or monetary values, officials reported, except for the sweeping statement that a total trade running into several billions is possible.

Experts on Soviet trade policy said that in the past Soviet estimates have almost invariably turned out to be far in excess of actual performance.

Khrushchev was reported to have told the President trade could be carried out in either or both of 2 ways.

He said in the first place the Soviet government could ship the United States enough goods to offset Soviet purchases here. But this process would take a long time to build up in volume, and he said as an alternative Russia is prepared to buy American products on credit.

Large scale, long term financing would enable American manufacturers to obtain quick Russian orders. This carried an implication that Krushchev believes U.S. manufacturers, caught in the present economic recession, are anxious for Soviet business and the government may be willing to help them by financing it.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer V. Pearce make announcement this morning of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Larry L. Hile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Hile.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Aug. 10.

Miss Pearce attended Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Phi Mu sorority.

Mr. Hile is attending the University of Nebraska College of Architecture.

SUBURBIA

EASTBOROUGH

Variety is our keyword this morning as we hear of farewell parties, patio festivities, informal coffees and considerable social whirling planned by the younger generation in the Eastborough suburb.

It seems that the pre-teeners had a host of parties this spring to bid a temporary farewell to their school friends and one such event that took place in Eastborough was the patio party on Tuesday evening given by Roy Hiatt, Jr., for a number of his sixth grade classmates. Twelve young ladies and their escorts were invited to the hamburger fry and evening dance.

Heard that Mrs. Jesse Haith was hostess at her home last Wednesday morning when her guests included the old and new officers of the Matronettes group of the YWCA. The party was given to honor Mrs. Henry Gruenemeier who now is making her home in Phoenix Ariz. Newly-elected officers who were co-hostesses at the party are, in addition to Mrs. Haith, Mrs. August Brunke, Mrs. Frank Coffman, Jr., and Mrs. Ray Scholtz.

Mr. and Mrs. Gruenemeier and their three children, Rieny, Linda and Steven, departed from their home at 3300 North 66th Street on Tuesday morning to motor to Arizona.

While we are on the subject of farewells we want to mention the party that was given by Mrs. Robert Hartsock and Mrs. Joseph Ritter at the Hartsock home last Wednesday. The event was an informal coffee at which the honorees were Mrs. Robert Elliott and Mrs. Weldon Burt. Fifteen neighborhood ladies and their youngsters were invited to the patio breakfast.

Incidentally, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and their two children, Steve and Christy now are living in Omaha, and the Weldon Burts, with their three children, Debbie, Susie and Scott, said goodbye to their friends last Saturday when they motored to Ft. Worth, Tex., to reside.

Miss Mary Therese Reeder, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. John Reeder, traveled to Chillicothe, Ill., on Friday, May 16, for a visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Bernice Reeder. Mary will be returning home the middle of June.

A lace bertha framed the shoulder-wide decolletage of the long-sleeved bodice of satin, and the full skirt, which extended into a train, was highlighted by a front panel of lace and satin ruffles. Her veil was fashioned of imported lace, and she carried a white prayer book marked with white orchids.

The bride is a graduate of St. Catherine's Hospital School of Nursing in Omaha, and Mr. Fisher, a former student at Tarkio College, Tarkio, Mo., is attending the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Tau and Pi Tau Sigma engineering honoraries.

Wednesday Wedding

For her marriage to Lowell Dale Conyers of Great Bend, Kan., which took place on Wednesday evening at the First United Presbyterian Church, Miss Jane Louise Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Johnson, chose a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The basqued bodice of lace was designed with a sabrina neckline paterned with sequins, and lace mitts replaced the length of the brief sleeves. Froths of tulle, over which lace drifted in side panniers, created the extremely bouffant skirt which was completed with a chapel train. Her illusion veil was fingertip length and she carried white orchids encircled with stephanotis.

For the 8 o'clock ceremony, solemnized before a background of candlelight and white flowers by the Rev. Dallas Gibson assisted by the Rev. Richard Schecter of Leoti, Kan., the attendants were Mrs. James Cunningham of Salina, Kan., the matron of honor; and Miss Dorian Brown, the maid of honor and Mrs. Keith Adams, the bridesmatron. Their costumes of Nile green dotted organza over taffeta were designed with slender bodices the princess lines of which extended into the flared skirts. Their flowers were feathered carnations and stephanotis. Lighting the candles were Mrs. Charles Olsen of Sterling, Kan., and Miss Joan White.

Mike Olsen of Minden served as best man, and the ushers were Douglas Hupp, Charles Olsen, both of Sterling, Kan.; Keith Adams of Canton, Kan., Dean Marsh of Minden and Keith Adams.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to the lakes, Mr. Conyers and his bride will reside at 4300 Holdrege St.

Dear Abby . . .

Avoid The Temptation

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Would you permit your 18-year-old daughter to visit her 18-year-old boyfriend at the Marine Base in San Diego alone? He's been there two months and has another four to go, which seems like a lifetime to them. He was her first beau and they went steady their last two years of high school. They write each other every day and think they can't live without each other. He's a fine boy and I trust my daughter, but what arguments can I use against her going?

OLD FASHIONED SQUARE

DEAR SQUARE (You sound pretty hep to me): The burden of temptation is too heavy to place on two 18-year-old kids who "can't live without each other." Parental authority is indisputable. You need no other argument.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have a brother-in-law and whenever I am playing gin he stands behind me and kibitzes every hand. He makes me very nervous. Sometimes I just give him my hand to play, but he doesn't catch on. How can I get rid of this kibitzer? BLITZED

DEAR BLITZED: Next time, don't give him the hand—give him the deuce.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 60 years old, raised four children and buried two husbands. I have 17 grandchildren whom I love very much, but my children take advantage of me. They go ahead and make summer vacation plans among themselves, deciding when they will go and leave their families with me. They tell me of their plans and I am expected to look after their children. When I was first widowed they said it was good to take my mind off my sorrow, but my mind is way off it now and I would like to make some vacation plans of my own. How can I tell them?

"TAKEN ADVANTAGE OF"

DEAR TAKEN (and you have been "taken"): Tell them—just like you told me. In about 106 well chosen words.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a policeman. He says I am the only one for him. He told me he didn't want to get married but he asked me how I'd like to be a policeman's wife. Was this a proposal or not? JUDITH

DEAR JUDITH: This sounds more like a proposition than a proposal. Don't make any wedding plans until he tells you "which" policeman he had in mind.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Read in your column about a lady who said she had two illegitimate children but never even kissed a man. May I suggest that she must have had a very powerful handshake?

PSYCHOLOGY MAJOR

DEAR MAJOR: Either that—or a very poor memory.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE WITH A LIVING DOLL:" Even a "living doll" has a heart—but knocking the sawdust out of her is no way to win it. You goofed, Sonnyboy!

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Opinion Asked On Forcing Sewage Plant Construction

The Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council will ask an attorney general's opinion on whether the city of Fremont under a law passed by the 1957 Legislature, can be forced to construct a sewage treatment plant.

Fremont's raw sewage now is transported via an 8-mile pipeline into the Elkhorn River.

At its June meeting in Lincoln Wednesday, the Council noted that the 1957 Water Pollution Control Act carried an "escape clause."

Municipalities levying a 2-mill tax in order to build funds for sewage treatment are exempt from anti-pollution controls. If at the end of 25 years there still is not enough money in the fund to finance a plant, the city can transfer the money to the general fund and be absolved forever thereafter from terms of the act.

State Sanitation Director T. A. Filipi told the Council that Fremont city officials have advised they plan to take no further action on construction of a sewage treatment plant.

He said their plans were based on the provisions of the 1957 law plus a favorable 1952 report on water pollution tests of the Elkhorn River which state that the "amount of sewage . . . is not noticeably detrimental to the stream discharged at the rate of 750,000 gallons per hour."

Filipi said the 1952 survey was taken at a high river flow time and the report was based on that lone test.

The Council then ordered a "thorough" test of the stream to begin shortly.

Favorable pollution control reports have been received from 14 cities including Kearney, North Platte, Ralston, Laurel, Plainview, Elkhorn, St. Edward, Franklin, Plattsmouth, Bellevue, Gering, Seward, Hebron and North Loup, and by the American Crystal Sugar Co. at Grand Island.

The deadline for applications for 1958-59 fiscal funds has been set for June 30, and the Council will meet again July 16 to decide on the allocations.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Back in the Twitching Twenties we said the illustrious Herbert Hoover was fattening Europe up for the next war. We also remarked you would never see a relief ship sailing west.

☆ ☆ ☆

Herbert did stout them up for the big blowoff. And we didn't gander a food ark headed west during our built recession.

☆ ☆ ☆

What kind of a recession was that? We had more jobs, more strikes, more taxes, more coffee breaks, more wire baskets, bigger hats and baggier dresses.

☆ ☆ ☆

But we kept sending our wheat, corn and beans to Europe like it grew on trees.

Cubs Jar Roberts, Phils 11-5

Chicago (AP)—Hot-hitting Ernie Banks, National League home run and RBI leader, slammed his 15th and 16th circuit blasts Wednesday as the Chicago Cubs rode an 18-hit attack to a 11-5 triumph over Philadelphia.

Chicago's Lee Walls also hit his 14th homer in a game which produced a new major league record as Bobby Thomson, batting eighth in the Cub lineup, was intentionally passed three times. The old mark was two such gratis passes shared by many players.

Philadelphia's Robin Roberts lasted less than three innings in suffering his sixth loss of the year.

Spahn's Pinch Hit In 11th Nips Frisco

San Francisco (AP)—Milwaukee's lefthanded pitcher Warren Spahn turned pinch-hitting star Wednesday and singled home the winning run in the 11th inning to give the Braves a 10-9 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

A disappointed crowd of 20,886 saw Spahn hit a pitch off Stu Miller with two out in the 11th that scored Bill Bruton with the decisive tally.

The Braves, who trailed 7-1 after three innings, used 23 men—all their able-bodied hands. Eventual winning pitcher was Ernie Johnson, sixth in a string of seven who toiled for the visitors.

KEEPING SCORE

Star Sports Staff Writer

With Al Beebe

The Nebraska College Conference has roused the ire of its biggest member, Kearney State Teachers College. New rulings made at the latest conference meeting have Kearney up in arms, feeling the rules are aimed at KSTC.

The rules limit traveling football squads to 33, 12 in basketball, 16 in baseball, 5 each in golf and tennis, and only 3 entries per event in track.

Obviously, the rules are aimed at Kearney. No other NCC member has carried 60-65 gridders on a trip, or 15-18 basketball players, or insisted upon 5 entries in a dual meet.

The rules aren't likely to hurt Kearney as an athletic power. The primary objection, according to Kearney sports scribe and spokesman Bob Van Tine, is that "Such a move defeats and is against the very principle of a sound sports program—to serve as many boys as possible."

That sounds nice, but is it? It might be well to ask who foots the bill for such an enormous program. Kearney is a state-supported school. Are the taxpayers, then, paying the price?

If so, how many of those 60-65 footballers actually play in the game? How many minutes were logged by the 5th and 6th team players?

Was it worth the cost?

In track, the rule book itself recommends only 3 entries in a dual meet, though it is not a definite rule. Why should Kearney demand to be different?

No school in the nation that we know of can afford to send such large athletic teams on trips, and consider it a reasonable expenditure. In the Big Eight and most other major conferences, the football traveling squad is limited to 36 members. Other sports have similar limitations.

If the Kearney desire is actually to allow more boys to participate (other than the desire to run up high scores, as is suspected by other NCC members), then home dates surely allow this opportunity often enough.

Certainly, suit up as many boys as you have uniforms for a home game. Play as many as possible. There can be no strong objection to this. But the sign of a good athletic program is not how many boys get to take free trips.

There is no denying that Kearney has a good athletic program. There are good facilities and good coaching. Most important, probably, Kearney is centrally located in a good athletic area. There can be nothing but commendation for such a program.

But there must also be some common sense.

Quite probably, Kearney is fast outgrowing the NCC. It is now far ahead in enrollment. The time may come when Kearney may have to break from the NCC, becoming either an independent athletically or join a conference of somewhat larger schools.

It may not even be too inconceivable that Kearney may some day become Nebraska's second athletic power, such as Kansas State or Oklahoma State.

Right now, undoubtedly, the state could not support 2 schools of Big Eight proportions in intercollegiate athletics. But the time could come.

BYU To Decide Today On Sunday NCAA Play

Provo, Utah (AP) — Brigham Young University expects to decide today whether its baseball team will enter the 1958 National Collegiate Baseball Championships at Omaha.

One question to be decided is whether the school's team will be allowed to compete on Sunday. BYU is owned and operated by the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) church, and the school administration is reported to frown upon Sunday athletic competition.

Dr. Milton Hartvigsen, dean of the school's college of recreation, physical and health education and athletics, said:

"In fairness to everyone back there we feel we must make our decision Thursday."

He said he would refer the matter to the school administration, but did not know if the decision would be made there or at a meeting of the university's board of trustees. The trustees have a regular meeting scheduled in Salt Lake City.

He indicated permission might be sought to allow the team to compete on Sunday, by saying that he doubted if the tournament schedule could be changed and the only alternative was for BYU to conform to the schedule.

In Kansas City, NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers said:

"Brigham Young University has qualified for the NCAA tournament and it is up to that institution to determine if it will compete."

Dodgers Shut Out Redlegs

Los Angeles (AP)—Southpaw Johnny Podres junked his losing string at four with a three-hit shut out Wednesday night as Los Angeles defeated Cincinnati 3-0. Charley Neal drove in a pair of runs with a homer and a triple as the last place Dodgers won their first of the season from the Redlegs.

It was the first shutout of the year for Podres, who led the National League with six last season, and his first victory since May 2. The 25-year-old lefty, now 5-4, retired the last 11 men he faced in giving the Dodgers their first victory over Cincinnati in six decisions since last August 21.

Pdres, beaten 3-2 at Chicago in his last start after blanking the Cubs for 8 1-3 innings, gave up leadoff singles to Johnny Temple and Don Hoak in the first and second innings, then put down 11 straight before Roy McMillan singled with two out in the fifth.

Boyer, Musial Pace Cardinals' 6-3 Win

St. Louis (AP) — Ken Boyer's inside-the-park home run and Stan Musial's three hits, including a home run, paced the St. Louis Cardinals in a brisk extra-base attack that defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3.

Boyer's drive, his ninth of the season, was high off the left-center field wall in the second inning. When Bill Virdon slipped started a long relay, the fleet St. Louis third baseman followed Joe Cunningham across home plate.

MICELI KAYOES YOUNG FULLMER

West Jordan, Utah, (AP)—Poised Joe Miceli of New York caught young Jay Fullmer with a vicious left hook here Wednesday night and knocked him out two minutes and nine seconds of the third round of their welterweight fight.

The 140-pound Fullmer gave away seven pounds in weight to Miceli and even more in know how.

Casey Stengel, that old professor of the diamond, winks his pleasure as he wears the mortar board of his former bat boy, Joe Carrieri, at Yankee Stadium. Carrieri, voted a $750 World Series share instead of the usual $450 in 1955 in order to have enough money for a full year at Fordham, visited the stadium Wednesday and brought along the cap he'll use at his graduation next week. Carrieri's scholarships in the Fordham Law School give proof that Casey's investment was not misplaced. (AP Wirephoto).

Returns Show Slim Margin For Chavez

. . . O'Malley: I'm Delighted

Los Angeles (AP)—The people of Los Angeles have written a happy ending to one of the zanier cliffhanger tales of modern times: where will baseball's transplanted Brooklyn Bums play in the West?

Climaxing an incredible hunt for a permanent park in their new home here, the Dodgers learned late Wednesday they are headed for the site they dreamed of, Chavez Ravine.

Voters are sending them there via slim but sufficient approval of a city-Dodgers contract that provides 300 acres in the Ravine for a 52,000-seat stadium costing up to 12 millions.

A slow count of votes from Tuesday's California primary election kept the issue in doubt—as the whole ball park picture has been for months—until late Wednesday.

By the time vote counters quit for the night there appeared no question that the Dodgers are in.

The latest count: 2,350 of 4,519 precincts: Yes 176,605, No 159,028.

Dodger Boss Walter O'Malley, who because of the closeness of the vote refused for more than 20 hours after the polls closed to issue an optimistic statement, finally called a press conference and said:

"I'm delighted."

He hopes to be able to start work on the new stadium in a month, he said.

Mayor Norris Poulson, a key man in luring the team west, commented:

"The integrity of the city has been upheld by the voters."

Comic Joe E. Brown, who led the fight to get a ballot box win for the Dodgers, said: "It was a long hard fight, but it was worth it."

Said Councilman John Holland, leader of the anti-contract faction:

"The present vote trend is very disappointing. I am not admitting yet that the Yes votes will be in the majority."

Might the "anti" faction take the case to the courts? "We have a right to appeal. But I can't say now that this will be done."

A deputy registrar of voters, after doing some work with his slide rule, estimated that the Dodgers contract's winning margin will be about 25,000 votes.

O'Malley told his press conference that he hopes no further obstacles are thrown up. If all goes well, he said, the Dodgers could open in their new stadium on July 4, 1959.

Patrick McGee, the Los Angels city councilman who was one of the Chavez Ravine plan's hottest opponents, indicated that the fight against O'Malley was ended.

"You can't fight City Hall" he said good naturedly. "We'll just have to take our lumps.

"In a way, our side won. We wanted the measure submitted to the people, and that's been done. So now, let's get on with the ball game."

PLAYERS ELATED

Los Angeles (AP) — Dodger ballplayers were mighty happy Wednesday that the voters of Los Angeles want them to have a Chavez Ravine stadium.

"I'm tickled to death for Mr. O'Malley's sake and for the chance to have a good ball park," said Capt. Pee Wee Reese.

"I'll sure be glad to get in a new stadium," said pitcher Don Drysdale.

Duke Snider, who has hit only one home run in the Coliseum, said the vote was "a wonderful thing."

"Now if we can just start winning some ball games," said first-baseman Gil Hodges.

"This vote was a wonderful thing," said shortstop Don Zimmer. "I might even sell my home in St. Pete (St. Petersburg, Fla.) and move out here—now that it's all over."

Calumet Not Changing Riders In Middle Of Stream

Valenzuela Chosen To Pilot Tim Tam In Belmont

New York (AP)—Ismael Valenzuela, who rode Tim Tam to victory in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, was chosen Wednesday to pilot the Calumet Farm's colt in the Belmont Stakes — final jewel in the triple crown.

Valenzuela, 23 - year-old Mexican-American from McNary, Tex., subbed for Bill Hartack when Calumet's regular rider suffered a broken leg a week before the derby last month.

There were many who thought that Hartack, who returned to the saddle a week ago, might get the mount on Tim Tam in Saturday's $100,000-added classic.

Calumet has won the triple twice, with Whirlaway and Citation.

Trainer Jimmy Jones settled the riding question with the announcement at a luncheon that Calumet wasn't changing jockeys in the middle of the stream.

"I know what your question is, and right or wrong, I'm going to answer it," said Jones.

He noted that Hartack "has been rather closely associated, though not under contract, with Calumet Farm for several years," and Jones thought it was a good arrangement.

"I am one of the most unhappy persons that his injury robbed him of the chance to ride Tim Tam in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness—but that, I suppose, is fate.

"Bill has now recovered from his injury to the extent that he is riding again in the past few days. But, it is felt by Calumet that this triple crown effort is an extraordinarily important event and that jockey Hartack, great as he is, quite possibly has not yet reached his top form.

"For that opinion, only, jockey Ismael Valenzuela will perform the saddle services next Saturday on Tim Tam in the Belmont Stakes. I only hope that decision is a right one."

Rain, which interrupted play, forced the last game to be called by curfew at the end of six.

White Sox Cut String Of Scoreless Innings

New York (AP) — Billy Pierce became the first Chicago pitcher to defeat New York as the White Sox snapped a string of 32 consecutive scoreless innings and went on to defeat the Yankees 7-2 Wednesday.

Pierce, who hurled a five-hitter for his fourth triumph of the season against four defeats, shared honors with Don Mueller. The former New York Giant outfielder singled with the bases full in the role of a pinch hitter, scoring two runs.

The blow came in the seventh inning and snapped a 2-2 tie. The White Sox picked up another run in the inning and added two in the eighth on Jim Rivera's home run following a single by Sherm Lollar.

Pierce

It was the first Chicago victory of the current series and the White Sox' first triumph in five meetings with the Yankees this year.

Until the Sox broke through against Tom Sturdivant for a pair of tallies in the third, they had been blanked through 32 consecutive innings.

Pierce struck out six to wrest the American League strikeout lead with 55 to 53 for Bob Turley of the Yankees. Sturdivant went down to his third defeat.

Baxes Peps A's Past Nats 5-4

Washington (AP) — Mike Baxes rattled out four straight singles and drove in two runs to help the second-place Kansas City Athletics defeat the Washington Senators 5 to 4 before 3,808 spectators Wednesday night.

Washington's four-game winning streak was snapped and the Senators slipped from a third-place tie into a fifth-place deadlock with the Boston Red Sox.

Righthander Jack Urban was credited with his fifth victory against two defeats. He needed some bailing out from reliefer Virgil Trucks over the final three innings.

Tribe Hurler Holds Off Boston's Bid

Boston (AP)—A four-run 10th inning capped by a Billy Harrell home run and knuckleballing Hoyt Wilhelm's stout relief pitching provided Cleveland with a 7-5 victory Wednesday over Boston.

Wilhelm, 34-year-old National League castoff, surrendered a two-run homer to Dick Gernert in the bottom of the 10th after Ted Williams singled.

Snead Liked As Dallas Open Begins

Dallas (AP)—Sam Snead, the West Virginia mountain man who said "I wouldn't be coming here if I didn't think I'd win it," was favored Wednesday to take his second Dallas Open in a row.

Snead heads up a field curtailed by withdrawals of some of the stars in favor of practice at Tulsa for the National Open but Promoter Jim Ling, still mad about it, said he didn't think the controversy would hurt his tournament at the ticket window one iota.

"We still have one of the best fields of the year," said Ling as Snead and others of the anticipated 110 starters played in a pro-amateur Wednesday as the final tuneup for the $25,000 Open that begins today.

Snead last year won the Dallas Open by 10 strokes. It was played at Glen Lakes Country Club, a shorter course than the Oak Cliff Country Club's 6,500 yards, but probably as difficult. Sam wound up 10 strokes ahead of the field and in the process tied the all-time record for 18 holes at 60 and for 36 holes at 126.

Most of the players think it will take less than 270—10 under par—to win first money of $3,500.

Billy Maxwell, the red-haired Texan, had another 64, in Wednesday's pro-amateur.

Big Baseball Lineup Includes 4 Nebraskans

Kansas City (AP)—The champion Missouri Tigers and Nebraska's Cornhuskers scored with four players on the Big Eight Conference's All-Star baseball team chosen by coaches of the league.

Missouri players elected were Wilfred (Sonny) Siebert, first base; Ray Uriarte, third base; Martin Toft, outfield, and Gordon (Ernie) Nevers, who was one of four pitchers selected.

Jerry Adair, Oklahoma State's classy and hard hitting shortstop, was the only unanimous selection. Adair won the league batting crown with a .454 per cent.

Jim Kane, Nebraska catcher, won the backstop job outright, while Huskers Larry Lewis and Gene Torczon figured in a 5-way tie for the third outfield spot and Dwight Siebler in a tie with two others for a pitching berth.

The complete team:

1B—Wilfred Siebert, Missouri.

2B—William Price, Oklahoma.

3B—Raymond Uriarte, Missouri.

SS—Jerry Adair, Oklahoma State.

OF—Martin Tobt, Missouri, and Dan Peters, Iowa State Tie for other position, Paul Bader, Kansas Stater, Ron Wiley, Kansas; Bernard Molliconi, Colorado, and Lewis and Torczon.

C—James Kane, Nebraska.

P—Larry Miller, Kansas; tie, Eddie Fisher, Oklahoma and Nevers and Siebler.

Dodgers Promise Campy Coaching Job

New York (AP)—Roy Campanella said Wednesday he had been promised a coaching job with the Los Angeles Dodgers by President Walter O'Malley when he recovers from the paralysis which resulted from injuries suffered in an automobile accident in January.

The 36-year-old star catcher, in an interview with the NBC-TV's Today program from his hospital room at the NYU-Bellevue Institute, said he had first discussed a coaching job with O'Malley several years ago.

In a recent visit to the hospital, O'Malley renewed the offer, Campanella said, and added "you can have the job any time you want it."

Campanella said right now all he was interested in was getting well and going home to his family.

He now is able to sit in a wheel chair with the help of a brace that supports his neck, fractured in the accident.

Campanella said he was getting along fine and that his health, in general, was good. He was saddened, however, by the plight of the Dodgers, who now are in last place.

"I still think we have a very good pitching staff but it has not lived up to itself," he said. "The fellows are much better than they have shown, and I think in the future they will be a lot better."

$700 Million Jobless Pay Measure Signed

Washington (AP)—Emergency legislation making nearly 700 million dollars available to states for an extension of unemployment benefits was signed Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

The states can get the money—in the form of federal advances—by agreeing to extend by 50% the number of weeks in which their jobless workers can now draw benefits.

It remains to be seen how many states can or will take advantage of the new law. Many state administrations have reported they would have to get the sanction of their Legislatures or even change their constitutions to accept federal advances of money.

The Labor Department estimates that some 3 million idle workers have exhausted their state benefits and would be eligible to share in the additional money.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell sent telegrams to the governors of all 48 states, Hawaii and Alaska urging them to take advantage of the additional unemployment insurance funds. He asked them to let him know whether they plan to participate in the program.

Anderson Uncertain

Gov. Victor Anderson said he is uncertain how the jobless pay bill will affect Nebraska.

"But the attorney general advises me we won't be able to borrow money because of the state Constitution which prohibits us from going into debt," he noted.

The jobless pay bill could affect 4,000 workers in Nebraska who would be eligible for an extra $32 weekly for 10 weeks if the state participates in the plan.

FHA BILL IS SIGNED BY IKE

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed a bill authorizing the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) to insure an additional 4 billion dollars worth of home mortgages.

The action will enable FHA to resume handling of mortgage insurance applications. It suspended work on applications last week because its previous authorization was about used up.

There has been a sharp stepup in FHA loan activity in recent months.

$600,000 Hike In Local PO Receipts Seen

Postage rate hikes effective Aug. 1 will boost Lincoln Post Office revenue about $600,000 annually.

Alfred Heckel, chief accountant, said this figure was a conservative estimate.

Rate boosts would increase postal revenue to more than $3,500,000 a year in contrast to the 1957 total of $2,972,410.

The new pay rate will provide for a $200,000 raise for Lincoln postal employes.

The new postal bills provide for 4 cents for letters, 7 cents for air mail and 3 cents for postcards. Graduated rate increases are provided for other types of mail.

The 4-cent postal stamp, which will become widely used under the new rates, will be lavender-colored with a likeness of Abraham Lincoln.

Rail Rate Cut On Beverages OK'd

The state railway commission has authorized all railroads operating in Nebraska to make a 7% cut in their shipping rates on beer and other carbonated beverages.

The rate reduction brings shipping costs on the beverages back to the level existing prior to September of last year.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad won commission authority to provide truck pick up and delivery service at the McCook Packing Corp., McCook Municipal Airport and at the Nebraska Rendering Co., McCook, effective immediately.

In other business, the commission:

—Granted authority to the following public power districts to construct electric transmission lines: Wheat Belt Public Power District, Sidney, in Morrill, Garden and Cheyenne counties; Consumers Public Power District, Lexington, in Dawson, Burt and Buffalo; Southwest Public Power District, Palisade, in Hitchcock; Southern Nebraska Rural Public Power District, Grand Island, Adams County.

—Set a public hearing June 24 on the application of the Gas Service Co., Kansas City, Mo., to issue $11 million worth of aggregate par amount 20 year first mortgage bonds in Nebraska.

—Set a hearing June 17 in the Merriman Community Hall on the application of Clay and Pearl McNamee, Merriman, and Leonard and Inez Bassett, Tryon, to transfer certain Merriman Telephone Exchange properties.

Cozad School Site Action Waits Cost Study

The Board of Control Wednesday deferred action on the site selection of a mentally retarded school pending an engineering study to determine the costs of remodeling facilities at Cozad in accordance with the recommendations of the Board's advisory committee.

The committee has recommended Cozad as its first choice of 5 communities for the school authorized by the 1957 Legislature which appropriated $80,000 for its construction, maintenance and operation.

Cozad has offered the rental of 2 buildings for $225 per month for the school. The buildings are a brick church and frame parsonage.

In a meeting with the Board Wednesday, the committee recommended the buildings be remodeled to provide facilities for 20 resident students and 10 non-residents.

25-Mile Limit

The Board stipulated that students living within 25 miles of Cozad must be day students, and pupils living over 25 miles may be residents if the children's parents so desire.

Estimates on the ratio of resident students were approximately 12 boys and 8 girls.

The Board also will study costs of providing 2 apartments for housing instructional staff members. The staff would include a cook, custodian, at least 3 teachers and a director.

There were estimates, however, that the staff probably would include 8 or 10 members.

Hopes He's Married

The Board hopes the director will be a married man who can do some teaching, and whose wife could serve as either a teacher or house mother.

Salary of the school's director would be at least equal that earned by a principal of a Nebraska public school in a city the size of Cozad. Advisory Committee Chairman Dr. Vernon Hungate said this would be in the neighborhood of $5,000 to $6,000.

Cozad interests have said they will put up $750 toward the remodeling costs and also have stated they would provide free a city school bus to transport the children anywhere within the city limits during a regular school day.

Other advisory committee members present at the meeting included Dr. Marshall Hiskey of the University of Nebraska; M. E. Wyant, superintendent of the Beatrice State Home; Mrs. L. A. Enersen and Miss Inez Kenagy of Lincoln, and Mrs. C. A. Sorenson of Norfolk.

Woman Charged With Using Other Women's Accounts

Mrs. Iryle Pallesen of 424 No. 24th was charged in County Court Wednesday with obtaining property by false pretenses in connection with her alleged charging of more than $371 worth of merchandise to other women's accounts at local stores.

Mrs. Pallesen, 20, pleaded innocent and waived her preliminary hearing. She was bound over to District Court for trial by Acting County Judge Ralph Slocum. Bond was set at $1,500.

Police said Mrs. Pallesen admitted charging the merchandise to the accounts of 5 women who were employed by the same firm she was. She also reportedly admitted to police taking cash from the firm's office and also writing $62 worth of no-account checks.

$250 Award Goes To Imperial Girl

Phyllis A. Bonner of Imperial has been awarded the $250 Ayres, Swanson and Associates Award, presented to an outstanding advertising or journalism student at the University of Nebraska.

Miss Bonner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Bonner of Imperial, is a junior enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences with a journalism major.

Miss Bonner is a member of Gamma Alpha Chi, women's professional advertising honorary society, and Alpha Epsilon Rho, national radio and television honorary society.

1,289 Ninth Graders Promoted From Junior High

A total of 1,289 ninth grade students were promoted from the 6 Lincoln junior high schools at promotion exercises held at the various schools Wednesday night.

Freeman B. Decker, state commissioner of education, told the class of 163 at Everett Junior High that he defended the younger generation and had complete faith in them.

In reference to the Russian educational system as opposed to that of the U.S., Decker said, "I am not so concerned that we turn out more scientists, who spend most of their time inventing destructive weapons, but that we turn out more statesmen who will keep us out of wars."

'Just A Handfull'

He continued, "If we followed. . . the Russian system of education, we would have just a handful of people on this stage tonight, while the rest would be working on farms and in factories."

"Retrospect and Prospect" was the title of the talk given by 2 members of the 9th grade promotion class at Millard Lefler Junior High, Richard Curtis Owen and Sharon Stay. Susan Ducker presided at the exercises, and Warren Parker, member of the Board of Education, presented the 180 promotion certificates.

Dr. Steven Watkins, superintendent of the Lincoln Public Schools, presented the 270 promotion certificates to Whittier Junior High School students. Marcille Humphreys, class president, spoke on "Our Class." A "Salute to Whittier" was given by Marjorie Lokey; and Lavonne Hagelin and Charles Rowe extended greetings from the 7th and 8th grades.

The Rev. Victor Dye, associate pastor of First Methodist Church, told the 322 ninth grade students at Northeast Junior High School that growing into an outcome "involves awareness of where you are and determines what the outcome of your life will be."

He stated, "Hasty comments and disrespect of the younger generation are comments on mere incidents. If youth are getting worse generation after generation, let us remember that they are the products of their parents who have helped to shape their community. Youth must take that which we who live in this community have given them."

Dr. Paul Bancroft, member of the Board of Education, presented the 238 promotion address was given by Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska. The students were also presented Junior Civic League certificates by Burnham Yates of the Chamber of Commerce.

The chancellor pointed out in his address that, "Never before has the potential return from good scholarship and all around good preparation been as great as it is today."

He expressed the hope that many of those now graduating would go to college and he said, "Now is the time to plan that college education."

Chancellor Hardin instructed the students to "get help from your advisors, teachers and parents in selecting the courses in high school that will help you the most in the future."

"The Importance of Being Young" was the topic of the address given by the Rev. Frederick Roblee of Westminster Presbyterian Church at promotion exercises for the 116 Southeast 9th graders.

"The most difficult thing in the game of life is to learn to be like other people and also to be different from them. There are great pressures on all of us to conform, but this is in conflict with our freedom," the Rev. Mr. Roblee said.

"The goal which we should set before ourselves is to be better than the average," he concluded.

2 Bids Below Fire Station's New Estimate

Two bids on the 17th and Van Dorn fire station received Wednesday were both below the $57,600 estimate.

Apparently low bid of $55,790, including alternates, was submitted by Lincoln Engineering Construction Co. The W. J. Broer Construction Co. bid $56,770.

Architect Selmar Solheim is expected to make a recommendation on the bids Monday to the City Council.

Five bids were previously received on the station, but all were rejected as being over the estimate. The project was then re-advertised on a new estimate.

Low subcontract bids for heating, $2,674, and for electrical wiring, $3,276, are being held in abeyance.

The general contract includes station construction and conversion of the abandoned, underground reservoir to parking and storage.

Casual Holdup Grabs $849,538; Quickly Nabbed

Cincinnati (AP)—For a few seconds Wednesday afternoon a migrant farmhand who wandered up here from the strawberry patches of southern Kentucky looking for "better pickins" was one of the most successful robbers in the annals of Cincinnati crime.

Walker James, 27, a Negro, swiped a bag containing $849,538 worth of registered mail from a couple of Brinks, Inc. guards, police said.

Police said James simply waited for the 2 Brinks men to emerge from the Post Office, snatched the bag away from one of the startled guards, fled 2 strides and was nailed.

Training Plane Crashes, Burns; 3 Are Injured

Martinsburg, W. Va. (AP)—A Capital Airlines training plane crashed and burned while shooting landings at Martinsburg airport. The only occupants, pilot and 2 trainees, were injured.

An airport spokesman said the plane, a transition craft not used in passenger service, had touched its wheels on the runway and was gaining altitude again when it crashed into some trees about 500 feet from the end of the runway.

Trial Begins

Los Angeles (UPI)—The attractive 20-year-old daughter of the late comedian Bob Burns went on trial for narcotics addiction.

Barbara Burns was arrested Jan. 8 in a raid by police here. Narcotics officer H. E. Dorrell said that she told him "I've been using heroin continuously since April of last year. I'm hooked now, and I have been for 7 to 8 months."

National Dope Monopoly Brain Trust Reported Smashed

New York (UP) — Federal narcotics agents announced they had smashed the alleged "brain trust" of a national narcotics monopoly with possible links to deported vice lord Lucky Luciano and the Sicilian-spawned Mafia. Eighteen persons were arrested and 4 others were sought.

Louis Fiano, 43, was arrested in Los Angeles as the alleged West Coast director of the syndicate, which authorities charged with controlling the movement of untold quantities of heroin and cocaine from the laboratory to the addict's arm.

The others, including 3 women and 12 men, were seized in New York. The arrests climaxed an 18-month investigation. More arrests were expected soon.

Among those arrested here were Joseph (Little Joe) Vento, 45, a former lieutenant of Luciano and an alleged top policy maker for the syndicate, and Natale Joseph Evola, 51, a Brooklyn garment trucker, who attended the 1958 Apalachin, N.Y., crime convention allegedly called by the Mafia to divide narcotics distribution areas among 60 hoodlum delegates.

One of the 4 sought was John (Big John) Ormento, 45, who also was at the Apalachin conference. Another was Carmine Galente, 47, a suspect in several slayings and sought for questioning about the Apalachin conference.

Authorities said both of these fugitives may have fled to Italy to enlist the aid of Luciano, a former associate in the old narcotics running days in Harlem in the 1930s.

In Naples, Italian police moved again to try to exile Luciano as a result of repeated charges linking him with trans-Atlantic narcotics traffic. Authorities are trying to have Luciano ousted from Naples to a remote island or mountain hamlet.

U.S. Attorney Paul W. Williams said in announcing the new narcotics crackdown that the defendants were charged specifically with conspiring to violate federal narcotics laws over a period of several years.

OTTO KOTOUC TO GET NU BUILDER AWARD

OTTO KOTOUC SR.

Otto Kotouc Sr., of Humboldt, will receive the Nebraska Builder award, highest non-academic honor of the University of Nebraska, at the University's 87th annual commencement exercises Saturday morning.

The award is made by the Board of Regents each year to a Nebraska citizen who has made outstanding contributions to the growth and development of Nebraska.

A native Nebraskan, Kotouc graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1908 and the same year was elected a representative to the Legislature, a position he held for 2 terms. He was elected to the Unicameral in 1951, and served for 4 consecutive regular terms and 2 special sessions. He announced his retirement from the Legislature this spring.

In the bicameral legislature, Kotouc sponsored legislation reorganizing the University into 7 colleges; secured appropriations necessary to start pioneering soil conservation work by the University's Division of Conservation and Survey, and defeated a bill which would have repealed the free high school law despite bitter opposition from his home district. Kotouc soon after secured a test of the constitutionality of the free high school law in the Nebraska Supreme Court.

In the Unicameral while Mr. Kotouc served as chairman of the committee on banking, commerce and insurance, all bills recommended by the committee were approved by the Legislature. He also served as chairman of the Legislative Council's committee on watersned legislation which prepared enabling laws for the formation of public watershed districts in Nebraska. Kotouc also sponsored the act creating the retirement system for the Nebraska judiciary.

Kotouc is completing his 50th year in banking. He is chairman of the board of the Home State Bank in Humboldt and of the Dawson Bank at Dawson. He is a past president of the Nebraska Bankers' Assn. and served on the executive committee of the State Bank Division of the American Bankers Assn. In the 1930s, he served on a committee passing on the eligibility of banks to reopen with funds advanced by the R.F.C.

In his long banking career, Kotouc never foreclosed on any borrower, feeling that with proper co-operation, adjustments can be worked out without destroying the dreams and aspirations of those seeking a common livelihood.

As a banker, Kotouc has had the unique experience of seeing his bank held up in 3 daylight armed robberies.

In addition to serving in many ways to serve his own community, county and southeast Nebraska, Kotouc is a trustee of the University of Nebraska Foundation. He has published an anthology of Czechoslovak poetry and written articles for various bank magazines.

Previous recipients of the Nebraska Builedr Award are: 1946—Robert H. Willis, Lincoln, pioneer water conservationist; 1947—Paul H. Grumann, Omaha, director of Joslyn Art Museum; 1948—A. T. Hill, Lincoln, archeologist for State Historical Society; 1949—Delmar Anderson, prominent Dawson county farmer; 1950—(No award); 1951—J. Hyde Sweet, publisher of the Nebraska City News-Press; 1952—Rufus Howard, prominent agriculturist; 1953—C. Petrus Peterson, Lincoln attorney and legislator; 1954—Charles J. Warner, Waverly, lieutenant governor and prominent farmer; 1955—George E. Condra, University of Nebraska Division of Conservation and Survey livestockman; and 1957—George Holmes, Lincoln, banker

Townships Road Control Is Clarified

Unless a county under township organization has adopted the county road unit system, the supervision and control of township roads remains with the township board, the attorney general has ruled.

An opinion, requested by Valley County Attorney Ralph W. Norman, Ord, said the situation with respect to supervision and control of township roads in counties not under the county road unit system remains just as it was previous to a change in the law made by the 1957 Legislature.

The statute in question, LB 111, affords counties the opportunity to employ the services of a county highway superintendent. In some counties, such procedure is mandatory, the opinion said.

However, in counties under township organization, the act provides for the adoption of a county road unit system on a voluntary basis.

Once the county road system has been adopted, the township board must then turn over its road working equipment, and relinquish control over its roads, the opinion said.

Clarence S. Beck, attorney general, and Cecil S. Brubaker, assistant attorney general, signed the opinion.

W. LINCOLN TO CRACK DOWN ON SPEEDERS

A crack-down on speeders in the West Lincoln area was initiated at the Village Board meeting.

Mayor Fred Way reported that law officers were told to increase their check of speeders after several West Lincoln residents appeared before the board to complain about the danger of the speeders. The board also ordered 2 new stop signs to be placed in the residential area.

In other action, the board issued a permit to sell fireworks to Clifford Anderson, who will set up a stand on Hwy. 34 and 2.

The board approved the hiring of a deputy marshal to aid Marshal Ed Itzen, but found no replacement for Atty. Don Bykerk, who assisted the town board with legal matters and aided with police magistrate court cases.

Terry To Sponsor Repeal Legislation If Public Power Tax Amendment OKd

By Betty Person

If a constitutional amendment on taxes proposed by 2 public power districts is passed in the November election, Sen. Terry Carpenter said Wednesday he will introduce legislation for a counter-amendment to repeal it and tax the districts the same as private power companies.

Consumers Public Power District and Omaha Public Power District have sponsored a successful petition campaign to place on the November ballot a proposed amendment to ratify their present "in lieu of tax" payments and allow for a 5% tax on the gross revenue from the retail sale of electricity in incorporated cities and villages.

A suit is now pending in Scotts Bluff District Court, filed last year by Carpenter against Consumers, to test the constitutionality of the "in lieu of tax" payments.

'Shrewd'

Sen. Carpenter Wednesday called the power districts' proposed amendment a "shrewd, unaccepted method of writing legislation which denies to the people of this state the right of a public hearing on the measure as would be given in the Legislature."

The Scottsbluff senator said, "I'm in favor of public power, but I'm not in favor of it to the extent that I think they should be subsidized by the taxpayer."

Public power districts "build their incomes from 3 sources, Carpenter said. "They pay no income tax, they issue tax-exempt bonds which results in halving their interest rate, and they don't pay taxes on their physical properties on the same basis as the private power companies did," he contended.

'Oppose Subsidizing'

"I'm not in favor of subsidizing public power districts by indirect taxation," Carpenter declared, adding that he was not referring to "individual power plants owned by the municipalities."

The fiery Scottsbluff senator charged that Omaha Public Power District "can spend $600,000 a year for public relations, but not one additional quarter for taxes."

Declaring that "one-third of the people of Nebraska don't know the power districts are publicly-owned," Sen. Carpenter said the "problem is highly complex and the districts take advantage of it."

He also charged that the Legislature "never wrote the laws creating the public power districts—they were written by the districts themselves."

REVISED BOY SCOUT PROGRAM AID IN CURBING DELINQUENCY

Although juvenile delinquency still plagues nearly every American community, a new Boy Scout program may work wonders with youngsters who have strayed off the track, according to a national Boy Scouts of America leader.

Rice

Appearing in Lincoln Wednesday in conjunction with Public Relations Day of the Cornhusker Council of the BSA, Glen Rice, assistant director of public relations for the BSA, addressed a luncheon meeting of newspaper, radio, television and public relations representatives called to discuss BSA publicity programs.

The new Boy Scout Explorer branch, an extension of the regular Boy Scout program, has undergone a complete overhaul, according to Rice.

Rice said that in a recent survey conducted among boys of high school age, it was learned that young men prefer coeducational activities as well as camping and other phases of Scouting. The new Explorer unit will foster and promote such activities for young people in the community.

Rice, who lives in California, said the BSA has made plans for an all-out drive in the fall to urge young men to join the Explorers.

'Chaos' In Natural Gas If Decision Reversed—Brief

The State Supreme Court would create "chaos in the gas industry for many years" should it reverse a lower court decision in a pending rate case, according to a brief filed.

The Nebraska Natural Gas Co., with headquarters in Fremont, filed the brief as "amicus curiae" or friend of the court.

Boone County District Judge Robert D. Flory ruled recently that the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., had the right to increase gas rates in the city of St. Edward, Neb.

The city had refused to accept the rate increase on grounds the rates set out in a 25-year franchise granted the firm in 1950 were binding for the entire 25 years.

Nebraska Natural, in its amicus curiae brief, said it has a case pending in the Supreme Court against the City of Lexington, involving the same principles of law. Nebraska Natural serves 17 Nebraska cities and towns under franchise, some of which are almost identical with the one under consideration at St. Edward.

13 Youths Charged After Raid At Lakes

Fremont, Neb. (AP) — Complaints charging 13 Omaha boys with being "minors in possession of alcoholic liquor" were filed by Dodge County Attorney William G. Line Wednesday as the aftermath of a raid on a wee-hours drinking spree at the State Lakes near Fremont.

Warrants were issued for 5 other boys who fled when the raiders arrived, 8 boys and 8 girls were released.

Appearance bonds of $50 each were set and a hearing was scheduled for the boys at 10 a.m. Friday.

Officers believed 2 carloads of youths slipped past the hastily formed raiding party, but some of the youths questioned said about 90 were expected at the party.

Most of the students at the post-graduation spree were from Technical High School in Omaha, officers said.

The party was believed to have formed about midnight and started for Fremont. Sheriff Pelham McGee said officers spotted a caravan of about 6 Omaha cars in Fremont and quickly formed a raiding party made up of sheriff's officers, state patrolmen, liquor agents and game wardens and swooped down on Midland Beach south of Victory Lake.

Officers confiscated 4 cases of beer, and several bottles of vodka and whisky. Officers were seeking Wednesday to learn the names of the suppliers of the liquor and beer.

Some of the girls questioned Wednesday said they found out about the party after graduation exercises Tuesday night. They said they met behind Tech high school at midnight and headed for Fremont but they did not come in a caravan.

Several girls said their parents expected them to be out late or all night. Some said they thought it was "silly" for officers to pick them up.

"I think this is all silly. I do—13 years in school, we ought to get a party," one girl was quoted as saying.

Cooler Temps Due Thursday

Scattered showers or thunderstorms are forecast for Thursday in the Great Lakes area, the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys, the Gulf coast states, southern Plains and Montana and Wyoming. It will be generally fair with sunny skies elsewhere. Cooler weather will occur in the upper Great Lakes and upper and middle Mississippi Valley and the central Plains; warmer in the Atlantic coast states, the Gulf coast and northern Rockies. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Kearney County Again State Leader In Polio Fund Drive

Seward, Neb. — Nebraskans contributed $383,256.82 to the 1958 March of Dimes, it was reported by Ted R. Hughes, Seward, state March of Dimes chairman.

"This total reflected in county reports forwarded to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for final audit will provide needed help to large numbers of polio victims along the slow and costly road to maximum recovery," Hughes said.

For the sixth time in the past 11 years, the state's highest per capita contribution—95 cents—came from the people of Kearney County (Minden) under the leadership of Emil Nelson, veteran polio volunteer.

Other high per capita contributions in counties with populations of 6,000 to 12,500 included Washington (Mrs. Harriett Jaenike, Blair) 60c; Sheridan (Mrs. Lloyd Hunzeker, Hay Springs) 52c; Furnas (Mrs. Russell D. Paine, Edison) 46c; and Box Butte (John E. Schneider, Alliance) 44c.

Among counties with less than 6,000 population, Kimball (George Burke, Kimball) led the list with 92c; Grant (Mrs. Muriel Crosland, Hyannis) reported 71c; McPherson (Melvin Waits, Tryon) 64c; and Hooker (Mrs. Joe Bader, Mullen) 62c.

In the population grouping of 12,500 to 19,000 Seward County (Ted Hughes, Seward) with 48c again headed the list followed by Otoe (Charles Miller, Syracuse) 38c; and Holt (Mrs. Robert Martens, Atkinson) 36c.

The highest per capita contributing counties among the 19,000 to 35,000 population grouping were Scotts Bluff (Leonard Harrison, Gering) 49c; Dawson (Woodrow Pfeifer, Lexington) 36c; Lincoln (James Keenan, North Platte) 32c; and Dodge (William Dugan, Fremont) 32c.

In the population grouping of over 35,000, Lancaster County under the leadership of Les Rau of Lincoln, led with an average per capita contribution of 29c.

Paul Sothman, 69, G.I. Construction Firm Head, Dies

Grand Island, Neb. (AP)—Paul H. Sothman, president of the Sothman Co., a construction firm, was found dead about 11 a.m. Wednesday seated in his favorite chair in front of his television set in the basement of his home.

Sothman, who would have been 70 on June 17, went home feeling ill Tuesday and when he failed to come to work Wednesday Martin Brase, the office manager of the firm, went to the house and found him.

Mrs. Sothman has been in St. Louis the last 3 weeks caring for their daughter and a grandchild born 12 days ago.

Sothman was a native of Grand Island and had been in the construction business for nearly 50 years, heading the Sothman Company since 1936. He was a World War I veteran.

Besides his widow he is survived by 2 daughters, Mary Vinnette and Mrs. M. F. Callaghan, both of St. Louis.

WEATHER AHEAD

Nebraska temperatures for the next 5 days will average 4 to 6 degrees above normal over western and northern portions, 6 to 8 degrees above in the southeast, with no major day to day changes. Normal highs range from upper 70s to middle to low 80s; morning lows from the upper 40s to the upper 50s. Precipitation will average .50 to .75 inch, occurring as showers and thunderstorms intermittently through the period.

Meter Maids In 1959

Omaha (AP)—Public Safety Director Lynn R. Carey is seeking 10 women in 1959 to police parking laws. He asked the council for an appropriation to pay the meter maids.

Thousands Will View Dam Rites

Superior, Neb. (UPI)—Assistant Secretary of the Interior Fred Aandahl will be the principal speaker Thursday at the dedication of the Lovewell Dam and reservoir, 8 miles south of Superior in Jewell County, Kan.

Senators Andrew Schoeppel and Frank Carlson, and Rep. Wint Smith (all R-Kan), also were scheduled to address the crowd of several thousand persons expected for the event.

Activities scheduled include a band concert, boat races and fireworks display.

The $5 million dam is 4,500 feet long and 86 feet high. The 8,000 acre reservoir has a capacity of 94,000 acre feet of water and will provide irrigation and flood control on White Rock Creek.

Power Line Engineering Study Done

Washington — Rural Electrification Administration headquarters here has informed Nebraska Congressman Robert Harrison that an engineering study relative to the 230 kv. transmission power line from Ft. Randall to Tamora has been submitted to the REA, Harrison announced.

"With the engineering study now completed, it will be necessary for certain contracts among the Nebraska power interests involved to be agreed upon," the Norfolk congressman noted. "When these steps have been completed, a feasibility study of the entire project by the REA administrator will be necessary before the loan recommendation can be made."

Harrison said he expects "comparatively little trouble from here on."

Tamora is in Seward County.

$3.5 Million In May Gas, Fuel Taxes Distributed

A total of $3,519,712 in gasoline and special fuel taxes was distributed during May, the state treasurer's office reported Wednesday.

Of the total, $1,975,296 went to the State Highway Department for roads, $465,728 was allocated for rural-star mail routes, $777,165 went to the counties for roads, $263,019 was returned in agricultural refunds, and $18,502 to refunds to dealers.

Health Head Hits Fluorine Use Attacker

City-County Health Dept. Director Dr. George Underwood Wednesday took issue with a New York physician who Tuesday had attacked the use of fluorine in water supplies to prevent tooth decay.

Dr. Underwood said Dr. Leo Spira is "not a recognized authority" on fluorine. Dr. Underwood also noted that both the American Medical Assn., and the American Dental Assn. have approved the use of fluorine in water supplies.

Dr. Spira had termed flourine a potent posion and said his studies have showed it has an adverse effect on the body. His visit to Lincoln was sponsored by a local physician, and not by any medical or dental association, Dr. Underwood said.

Dr. Underwood said a check into Dr. Spira's educational background shows he does not have a Ph.D. degree in medicine from London University, but that the degree was in physiology.

Fatal Crash Site Gets 2 Stop Signs

State Disclaims 'Responsibility'

The State Department of Roads Wednesday placed 2 stop signs at the junction of U. S. Highways 73 and 75 north of Dawson, site of a fatal Sunday night crash.

At the same time the department disclaimed all responsibility for the accident in which Mrs. George Hall Jr., 27, of Omaha, was killed.

L. N. Ress, state engineer, said he had ordered the signs placed which had been requested by Richardson County Sheriff Irvin F. Gates.

Gates said the accident would never have occurred if the state had put up a stop sign at the junction.

He also said he agitated for some 25 years for the sign.

Ordinarily Used

Ress said that ordinarily at intersections such as the one in question, the Road Department uses stop signs.

However, the topography of the land around the intersection and the geometry of the intersection itself, caused the department to deem it advisable to use yield right of way signs instead of stop signs.

"Concerning the movement of traffic involved in this accident," Ress said, "the same elements of control are present with a yield sign as with a stop sign."

Ress said the intersection involved is one of many intersections in Nebraska which should be modernized.

"Stop signs are not the solution to all traffic problems," he said.

Two cars met head on at the junction, killing Mrs. Hall and injuring her husband and 4 children. Jimmy Masonbrink and Jerry Bryant, both of Humboldt, were in the other car and also were severely injured.

Worker Killed

Chicago (AP)—An inch-long metal pin fired from a riveter's gun hit a workman in the stomach and killed him.

The mishap occurred 45 feet above the floor of a new city incinerator plant on the far South Side.

The victim, Robert E. Rice, 42, and 2 others were installing a roof level duct from a scaffold when Rice was hit.

Firemen carried Rice down but he bled to death.

Grain Futures Generally Higher

Chicago (AP) — Short-covering sent most grain futures slightly to the plus side late Wednesday on the Board of Trade after earlier spotty weakness.

Most fluctuations were within narrow ranges above and below previous closes but a late rally in rye boosted that grain more than a cent a bushel higher in some contracts.

Soybeans, however, continued under pressure all day with losses running well over a cent.

At times, wheat traded at new lows for the season in some contracts both in Chicago and in Kansas City but some dealers had said prices of that grain could be expected to decline now that the harvest of the winter crop is getting well under way.

There were scattered reports that the new crop grain had begun moving into commercial markets in good volume and weather for the harvest was generally favorably. Meanwhile, export business was absent and commercial demand very light.

At the close, wheat was ¾ cent lower to ⅜ higher, corn ⅝ higher to ⅜ lower, oats ¼-⅞ higher; rye ¾-1¼ higher, soybeans ⅝-1¾ lower, and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Key Stocks Off Slightly

New York (AP) — The stock market's 3-day rise to new highs for 1958 faltered Wednesday.

Statistically, the overall market performance was just about a standoff. Key stocks showed a slightly lower tone on balance at the close.

Elements of strength were apparent. The most actively traded stocks contained 13 gainers to one loser and one unchanged.

Five oils were among the most heavily traded issues and all were gainers. The international oils attracted new interest, brokers said, because of quieter conditions in the middle east.

Investment buying also was much in evidence.

Steels, after their recent upsurge, backed away slightly. Motors did very little. Leading rails declined.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at $171.90 with the industrials up 40 cents to another new yearly high, the rails down $1.00 and the utilities unchanged.

AEC Unveils New Timetable For Competitive Atom Power

Washington (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission unveiled a new timetable for the development of competitive nuclear electric power both in this country and in friendly foreign nations.

Commissioner Harold S. Vance told a Congressional Atomic Energy subcommittee the plan contemplates that electricity produced by atomic energy will be economically competitive abroad within 5 years and in the United States in 10 years.

He explained that nuclear-produced electricity should be saleable quicker abroad than in the United States because the rates for conventional power are so much higher in foreign nations.

He conceded the targets are "on the optimistic side." But he said the government should keep its sights high.

Firm Word

Vance appeared in response to repeated Democratic demands for some firm word on commission plans for developing nuclear power plants to produce electricity that could be sold to industry.

The commission's program got a cautious-to-cool reception from the subcommittee. Chairman Chet Holifield (D-Calif) said the group did not want to be "sucked into another deal" in which the "inability or unwillingness" of private industry to co-operate could wreck the plan.

Holifield and other Democrats have advocated the construction of more atomic power plants at government expense. The commission has adopted a policy of financing the cost of atomic reactors in partnership with private industry.

Private Money

Vance made clear the commission will continue to seek private money in financing power - producing reactors. But he said the commission is ready to go ahead on its own with its construction program if private funds are not available.

Discussing the overseas program, Vance said this country should consider a plan under which it would pledge a supply of enriched uranium for atomic power plants in foreign countries.

He said the United States also should consider a plan to allow foreign countries to buy or lease atomic fuels on the installment plan.

2 LOCAL CITY, COUNTY LAWMEN FBI ACADEMY GRADUATES TODAY

Local Law Officers Sharpen Shooting Eyes

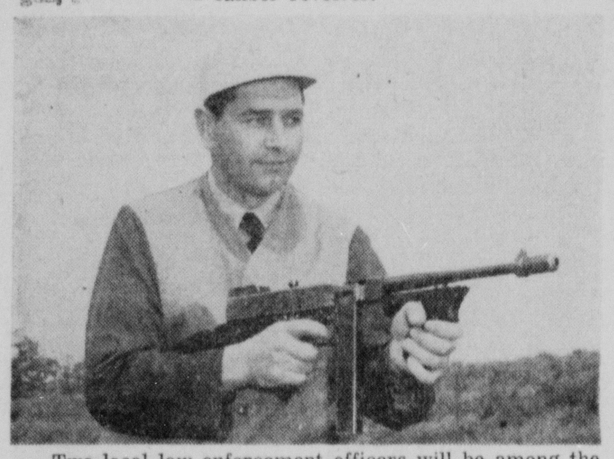
Local law enforcement officers Lancaster Deputy Sheriff Delton E. Zieman (top) and Lincoln Police Detective Robert J. Sawdon (bottom) are shown on the FBI firearms ranges located at the U. S. Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va. Zieman is firing the Thompson submachine gun, Sawdon a .38 caliber revolver.



Two local law enforcement officers will be among the 94 graduates of the 61st session of the FBI National Academy Thursday in Washington, D. C.

Robert J. Sawdon, Lincoln police detective, and Delton E. Zieman, Lancaster County deputy sheriff, will receive their diplomas from Deputy Attorney General Lawrence E. Walsh.

The men, who have successfully completed 12 weeks of intensive training in all phases of law enforcement work, are now prepared to pass on to their fellow officers the latest information in law enforcement techniques.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, pointed out that the men graduating from the school are ready to meet the challenge of protecting the citizens of the country against an ever-climbing crime rate.

Realtors Plan To Participate In 4-Day LAFB Show

The Lincoln Board of Realtors has made plans for participation in the Lincoln Air Force Base Aqua-Air Show slated for June 19-22, according to H. T. (Hal) Pickett, president.

At a Wednesday meeting of the Board, Lt. Col. Walter E. Starck and several LAFB representatives appeared before the realtors and outlined the 4-day LAFB program that Air Base officials expects to draw from 200,000-300,000 spectators. Lt. Col. Starck urged the realtors to promote and participate in the affair.

One of the proposals discussed would be a Realtors concession stand.

4,000 County Tax Council Signatures

More than 4,000 signatures have been obtained on broadened tax base petitions being circulated in Lancaster County by the Nebraska Tax Equity Council, a spokesman for the NTEC said late Wednesday.

The petition is aimed at forcing a November election vote on a constitutional amendment outlawing the property tax for state general fund purposes. It also calls for allocation of some funds to the common schools by the Legislature.

The NTEC spokesman said the petition campaign in Lancaster County was organized within each of the county's 36 elementary school districts. He said that "more than half" of the districts have not yet reported the outcome of their petition drive, adding that the NTEC expects to get "more than 5,000 signatures" in this county.

NTEC Chairman Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney has called a meeting of the executive committee in Lincoln Saturday to make a statewide tally of petition signatures now in hand.
